Report to the Board of Health

To Make Recommendations to the Board of Supervisors

Prepared by the Maricopa County Environmental Services Department

Environmental Services Department

Case #/Title: ES-2014-003/Food Service Worker Certification

Meeting Date: January 26, 2015

Supervisor Districts: All Districts

Applicant: Maricopa County Environmental Services Department (Department)

Request: Approve the proposed revision to Chapter VII of the Maricopa County Environmental Health Code (MCEHC) to align the MCEHC with A.R.S. § 11-269.12. This statute allows for food service worker (FSW) training and certification by accredited entities, and the requirement to accept other Arizona counties certificate or identification card.

Discussion: During the 51st Legislature, 2nd Regular Session Representative T. J. Shope (R-Dist.8) introduced HB 2436 Food Handler Training; Courses; Certification, amending state statutes related to county food handler trainings and certificates. HB 2436 was signed into law by Governor Jan Brewer on April 23, 2014 and became effective on July 24, 2014 as A.R.S. § 11-269-12.

A.R.S. § 11-269-12 states that if a county requires food handler training and certificates for employees in the food service industry, the food handler certificate training course must meet the American Society for Testing and Materials (ASTM) Standard E2659-09 and other statutory topics. A food handler certificate training course may be offered by any means available, including an online course, it must be completed within the time period required by the county and the certificate must be renewed as required by the county.

Upon completion of an accredited food handler certificate training course, the county shall issue any certificate or identification card required by the county, to a person who demonstrates successful completion of the course. A.R.S. § 11-269-12 also states that a county-issued food handler certificate or identification card is valid in any county that requires a certificate or identification card and prohibits the county from limiting the number of times a person may attempt to complete a food handler certificate training course.

Finally, A.R.S. § 11-269-12 asserts that if a county government that provides food service has an in-house food service training program, a certificate by that county training program is valid for food service that is provided for that county's facilities or operations. Food handler certificate training courses that are created by the county or approved by the county (or both) before July 24, 2014 that do not meet the ASTM standards are considered to be accredited.

In the bill sponsor's own words, the intent of this legislation "was to make food handler training courses more readily available to restaurants and workers and, importantly, to allow more choice as to entities that could offer such courses throughout Arizona…as long as a course is accredited per the standards contained in other parts of the bill, regardless of which entity offers the training, a county shall issue the proper certificate or card to anyone completing such a course" (Shope letter to Deputy County Attorney Dan Brenden, dated June13, 2014).

Department FSW Training/Card Implementation Efforts

Since A.R.S. § 11-269.12 went into effect, the procedures followed by the Department for FSW training and FSW cards are:

- The Department issues a FSW card to any individual who presents a valid FSW certificate from any ASTM accredited third party FSW training program. To obtain the FSW card, the individual must present the certificate at one of the Department's five regional office locations, along with the appropriate proof of lawful presence (e.g. valid AZ driver's license). The individual is then issued a FSW card with their photo. Kiosks are also provided at the Department's regional offices where individuals can take an online course and exam to obtain the certificate. The online course at these kiosks is offered through StateFoodSafety.com (SFS).

- The Department accepts valid FSW certificates or identification cards issued by another county within Arizona. An individual possessing a valid certificate/identification card from another Arizona county does not need to obtain an additional card from Maricopa County.

- The Department issues Limited Use FSW Cards to individuals with disabilities that meet the requirements outlined in the MCEHC, Chapter VII.

- The Department issues fee-waived FSW cards to individuals working under a Board of Health (BOH) fee waiver who have fulfilled the training requirements. The Department currently conducts the training required for these cards.

Department Research

Completing due diligence prior to recommending the proposed MCEHC revision, the Department researched whether or not each jurisdiction in California requires a locally-issued FSW card. California's Health and Safety Code contains requirements similar to A.R.S. § 11-269.12. Specifically, the California Code allows FSW cards to be recognized throughout the state, with the exception of jurisdictions with existing FSW programs that took effect prior to January 1, 2009.

There are three California counties that qualify for this exemption based on having an existing FSW program prior to January 1, 2009. Each of these county programs maintains their own requirements and methods for obtaining FSW training and certification.

- San Diego County
  San Diego County accepts either a valid FSW card issued by a county-authorized food handler training school, or a County FSW test administered by the current food safety manager who has passed a state approved food safety certification exam.

- Riverside County
  Riverside County accepts only SFS online FSW class/testing or testing at one of their County offices.

- San Bernardino County
  San Bernardino County accepts only County-issued FSW cards, which can be obtained online via SFS.

There were four other jurisdictions benchmarked which are listed below. None of the jurisdictions require a locally-issued FSW card in addition to the American National Standards Institute (ANSI)/ASTM accredited certificate described in the California Health and Safety Code.

Jurisdiction	Do you require a card in addition to the ANSI/ASTM certificate?	How are the ANSI/ASTM certificates audited?	How do you ensure the ANSI/ASTM certificates are valid?
Santa Clara County	No	Audits generally occur during inspections when an establishment has a history of non-compliance and/or in response to a food-borne illness report/investigation.	By ensuring the company is on the list of approved food handler training programs (ANSI-accredited).
City of Pasadena	No	-	-
Los Angeles County	No	During routine inspections the inspectors verify each employee has a certificate from an ANSI accredited program.	By looking for the ANSI accreditation on the printed certificate.

Current Contract with SFS to Provide FSW Training

At the request of the Department, the Office of Procurement Services (OPS) issued a solicitation for FSW training in November 2012, (Serial 12149-RFP, Food Service Worker Online Training, Testing and Classroom Training Provider (SFS Contract)) which was awarded by the Board of Supervisors (BOS) on June 5, 2013 to SFS of Orem, Utah. The SFS contract's base term is from June 5, 2013 through June 30, 2016. A copy of the SFS contract is attached and the contractor's responsibilities are specifically defined in Exhibit B, Scope of Work.

OPS received a letter dated October 18, 2014, (Included in the attached Report to BOH dated October 27, 2014) from Mr. Richard L. Hill who is the legal representative of SFS. In his letter, Mr. Hill states that by adopting and implementing the proposed rule to the MCEHC, which permits individuals to obtain training from providers other than SFS, would result in significant financial damages to his client, SFS. Mr. Hill alleges that adoption of this rule would reduce the number of individuals trained under this contract by 91%.

Mr. Hill also takes the position that adopting and implementing the proposed rule would be a violation of both the United States Constitution and the Arizona State Constitution, which both prohibit the adoption of laws "… that impair contractual rights" by no longer recognizing SFS as the exclusive provider of FSW training in Maricopa County through the base term of the existing SFS contract.

OPS, in consultation with the Maricopa County Attorney's Office, reviewed and responded to Mr. Hill's October 18, 2014 letter on October 30, 2014 (letter attached). A brief summary of the County's position regarding SFS's contract is that while the contract remains valid for the remaining base term of the agreement, it is a requirements contract as defined in Paragraph 6.6.1 of the SFS contract. Further, SFS knowingly entered into this contract and acknowledged that as a requirements contract, the County was not obligated to make any minimum or maximum purchases and therefore adoption of the rule would not affect the existing agreement.

On November 17, 2014, OPS received a faxed copy of a letter from Mr. Hill dated November 17, 2014, (letter attached) with a hard copy subsequently received via FedEx on November 18, 2014. In that letter, Mr. Hill reiterates his position that adoption of the proposed rule to the MCEHC would result in the County breaching their agreement with SFS and requested adoption of the proposed rule be delayed until expiration of the current SFS contract. Since OPS had previously responded to Mr. Hill's contractual issue, they did not provide an additional response.

The Department provided receipt acknowledgement of the letter, which is included in this report.

A.R.S. § 11-269.12 allows additional means by which a FSW may complete training and obtain certificates and identification cards. A FSW who obtains a valid FSW certificate from SFS will continue to be approved documentation of training. At this time, the Department's intent is to continue contracted services with SFS; however, the following may also serve as documentation of training:

- a valid food employee certificate, or identification card, issued by another county within the State of Arizona; or
- a valid food employee certificate of successful completion of a food handler training course given by the Department; or
- a valid food employee certificate of successful completion of a third party food handler training course that meets all State of Arizona statutory requirements, including compliance with the ASTM Standard E2659-09.

Support/Opposition: At the October 27, 2014 BOH meeting, the Department presented written comments from 217 stakeholders received via the Enhanced Regulatory Outreach Program (EROP) website and other means: 207 expressed support, 7 opposed and 3 stated their opinion as "other." Contracted vendor SFS Representatives, Mr. Vernon Stout and Dr. Christine Lewis provided statements at the BOH meeting. Mr. Stout noted that SFS is the current provider for the Department's FSW card program and is concerned about the proposed MCEHC revision due to the impact on the SFS contract with the Department. Mr. Stout emphasized that SFS has invested significant resources into fulfilling the contract requirements. Dr. Lewis expressed concerns about the proposed revision due to the potential threat to public safety and interference with the current SFS contract. After SFS provided their comments, the Department stated their interest in consideration of stakeholder input while meeting the changes required by Arizona Revised Statute. A motion to recommend continuance of the proposed revision into the standard EROP process was made by Ms. Halley, seconded by Mr. Steill and the motion passed unanimously.

After the October BOH meeting, the Department received written comments from five additional stakeholders: two expressed support and three expressed opposition to the proposed revision. The Department conducted an additional stakeholder workshop on December 4, 2014 (see Stakeholder Workshop Participation Summary on page 7).

To date, the Department has received written comments from 222 stakeholders via the EROP website and other means: 209 expressed support, ten expressed opposition and three stated their opinion as "other."

The Department provides email responses to all written comments received and where applicable, stakeholders were also provided MCEHC proposal clarifications and/or the statutory requirements outlined in A.R.S. § 11-269.12.

Supportive stakeholders stated the proposed revision provides increased flexibility in employee food safety training. Their written comments indicate FSW training flexibility may also provide:

- food establishments the ability to utilize quality training programs that are accepted in other states
- better compliance while retaining the regulation intent of employees trained on food safety knowledge
- the opportunity to create more affordable and convenient training options
- increased competition among approved training providers and the ability to choose the trainer.

Many of these stakeholders support both a FSW certificate to serve as training documentation and the Department's proposal of eliminating the FSW card requirement. Some stakeholders viewed the $5 FSW card cost as an extra unnecessary expense and the card as an inconvenience for employees to obtain at a Department office after successful test completion.

Opposing stakeholders are concerned with the potential of decreased control in the quality of FSW training provided and the prevention of fraud. Their concerns also included recommendations to require:

- a secure database for all course providers
- submittal of training documents to the Department
- the continuance of FSW card issuance/fee collection
- placement of the Maricopa County seal on certificates
- fulfillment of the current contract with SFS to remain the sole source provider of the Department's FSW card program.

The Department understands some opposition to the elimination of the FSW cards exists; however, the proposal is in line with the currently adopted 2013 FDA Food Code, which emphasizes the role of the Person in Charge regarding training and Active Managerial Control within a food establishment. The Department has referred all SFS contract related documents and comments to the Maricopa County Attorney's Office and the Office of Procurement Services.

The Department did receive a written comment from SFS which included recommended language (Included in the attached Report to BOH dated October 27, 2014) for the proposed revision. The Department did not incorporate this suggested language because it is in conflict with A.R.S. § 11-269.12; this statute is broad with respect to training and does not limit training to be in accordance with a sole provider or a specific contract.

Thus far, the Department has received over 94% support for this proposed revision. In accordance with the 2013 FDA Food Code, Maricopa County food establishment employees must demonstrate food safety knowledge; actual knowledge application is evaluated during Department inspections instead of a card or certificate.

Stakeholder Workshop Participation Summary

All comments received at the stakeholder workshops are included within the minutes for each workshop.

Seven stakeholders attended the September 22, 2014 stakeholder workshop. At this workshop, the stakeholders were provided the opportunity to review the proposed revision for the first time. Therefore, none of the attendees provided verbal support or opposition. No written comment sheets were submitted.

Six stakeholders attended the October 7, 2014 follow-up stakeholder workshop. Three attendees provided verbal support and two attendees provided verbal opposition for the proposed revision. The remaining attendee did not provide verbal support or opposition for the proposed revision. Those providing support stated that the proposed revision is in line with the national standards for food safety and those in opposition had concerns regarding FSW certificate authenticity and declines in FSW training quality. No written comment sheets were submitted.

Seven stakeholders attended the December 4, 2014 follow-up stakeholder workshop. One attendee provided verbal and written support on behalf of the National Restaurant Association. This stakeholder commended the Department for its leadership in promoting food safety through training. Their written supportive comment stated that the food service industry and Maricopa County citizens will be better served by the proposed revision. The National Restaurant Association supports qualified training and the increased availability of training. Three attendees on behalf of SFS provided verbal opposition and two of the three provided written opposition as well. The remaining attendees did not provide verbal support or opposition for the proposed revision. An opposing comment was submitted in writing for an individual not able to attend.

Department Recommendation: Staff recommends the BOH approve the proposed revision to the MCEHC.

Regulatory Process: In accordance with the Maricopa County Resolution, "Moratorium on Increased Regulatory Burdens," the County Manager authorized the Department to proceed with this case in July 2014. Also, the County Manager briefed the BOS on the proposed changes in August 2014.

If the BOH approves this regulatory change it is anticipated the proposal will be on a BOS public hearing agenda in April 2015. This regulatory change will take immediate effect upon approval by the BOS.

3rd Follow-up Stakeholder Meeting
ES-2014-003 Food Service Worker Certification
Thursday December 4, 2014

Stakeholders Present: Vernon Stout – State Food Safety, Chianne Hewer – AZ Restaurant Association, Elisa Cain – National Restaurant Association, David Matthews – National Restaurant Association, Susie Salas – State Food Safety, Roberto Angel – Albertson, Bryan Chapman – State Food Safety.

Staff Present: Andy Linton – Division Manager Environmental Health, Ken Conklin – Division Manager Quality & Compliance Division, Vonda Canaan – Enforcement Supervisor Quality & Compliance Division, Joan Minichiello – Management Analyst Quality & Compliance Division, Lene Pope – Development Services Technician Quality & Compliance Division

Presenter(s): Ken Conklin and Andy Linton

Minutes*: Ken Conklin welcomed everyone to this follow-up stakeholder meeting, and started off the meeting by discussing the Enhanced Regulatory Outreach Program (EROP) and the EROP website. EROP was adopted by the Board of Supervisors (BOS) to allow for more transparency of any regulatory changes and updates. We welcome comments from our stakeholders and will respond to every comment whether it is in support or in opposition of proposed changes. We are currently in the process of reviewing all the comments we have received so far for this case, and all of the comments will be available as part of the staff report submitted to the Board of Health (BOH) for the January 26th meeting (tentatively scheduled).
Andy Linton explained that the Food Service Worker requirements are listed in Chapter 7 of the Maricopa County Environmental Health Code (MCEHC). Recently, Arizona Legislators passed A.R.S. §11-269.12 – Food handler training and certificate, which went into effect in July 2014. The Maricopa County Environmental Services Department (Department) is proposing changes to Chapter 7 of the MCEHC to bring the requirements into alignment with the new law. Some of the proposed changes also bring language and definitions into alignment with those used in both the 2009 and 2013 FDA Food Code. Andy Linton went over the presentation and explained the proposed revisions. One of the proposed revisions stems directly from the State Statute, which is a valid food employee certificate, or identification card issued by any County within Arizona may now be accepted as documentation of food employee training. A valid food employee certificate of successful completion of a department food handler training, or a valid food employee certificate of successful completion of a third party food handler training course that meets all statutory requirements, including compliance with the American National Standard Institute (ANSI)/ASTM International Standard E2659-09 may also serve as documentation of food employee training.

Questions and Comments from Stakeholders and MCESD answers:

- Would the fee waived and limited use cards be accepted in other counties?

    - It would be up to the other counties to decide if they would accept these cards. However, other Arizona counties are bound by A.R.S. §11-269.12.
- Can an employer have their own testing/certification program and would the training program have to be ANSI certified? Also, would that program certification be good for 3 years?
    - Yes, an employer could have an in-house food employee training program. The employer implemented program would not have to be ANSI certified. However, if the regulation passes in its current form, the Department will propose to conduct audits of employee implemented training during inspections. This audit may consist of reviewing the training documentation and asking food employees to demonstrate a basic level of relevant food safety knowledge. Failure to produce the documentation or demonstrate the training's effectiveness would result in a violation for the person in charge because they did not fulfill their responsibility to properly train employees. This is currently a requirement in the FDA Food Code. The Department may propose that the trigger for such an audit be priority violations noted during the inspection. The in-house training documentation would be valid for 3 years. We are putting the onus on the person in charge to train their employees.

- Dave Matthews representative of the National Restaurant Association - Dave Matthews commended the Environmental Services Department for the Food Service Worker Certification proposal as it establishes a culture of food safety and self-policing based on training. It will be easier for employees to work in Maricopa County because foodservice worker training will be more accessible. Increased accessibility will result in increased public safety. This change will have a positive impact, especially for chains that operate in multiple jurisdictions. Establishments will be able to standardize their training and the change will influence employees to follow career dreams in the foodservice industry. Also, this change is good for the training program market. The current vendor will still be able to provide their services and this proposal will introduce competition.

- Bryan Chapman representative of State Food Safety (SFS) - SFS won the bid through the RFP process and the County selected SFS as the best program. This change would allow subservient or lesser quality programs into the County. Not every program is equal and will provide quality training. This change would greatly impact SFS.

- Susie Salas representative of SFS - SFS programs are really great for the public, especially Spanish only speaking workers. State Food Safety will be impacted by this code proposal.

Andy Linton encouraged attendees to submit any comments either by email or through our EROP website.

Meeting adjourned.

*In order for the minutes to be relevant; only those questions and comments that were applicable to the topic presented were recorded. All other questions and comments not relevant to the topic were addressed either at the time of the meeting or shortly thereafter.

Attachment: Four (4) December 4, 2014 stakeholder meeting comments (1 supportive and 3 opposing).

David Matthews
National Restaurant Association
12/4/2014

I work for the National Restaurant Association and we represent over 980,000 food service establishments in the United States, including the over 9,100 restaurants located in Arizona.

We would like to commend the County for its leadership in promoting food safety through training. It is important that a culture of food safety is maintained and supported by extensive employee and managerial training throughout the industry. The proposed changes to the Maricopa County regulations will go far to making training more accessible to restaurant employees who may have transportation issues and who work long and irregular hours.

Our members, especially those who operate multiple restaurants in a single state or across multiple states, have a vested interest in promoting food safety. The goal of governmental authorities should be in sync with making qualified training available to all food service employees as easily as possible. By adopting the AZ state food service employee training standard, the Commission is doing just that.

Qualified training should be available through as many outlets as possible and provided by as many qualified providers as the market can support. Competition in the provision of training will make it easier for food service employees to obtain and renew their credentials. Over 200 people who work in the industry have submitted comments that they support these changes. Several commented that they have not been able to comply with your existing regulations due to the locations of your offices and transportation issues.

The food service workforce is a hardworking and entrepreneurial group. Many work multiple jobs to pursue the American dream. This change will eliminate the burden on the workforce to have to maintain multiple sets of credentials if they work at more than one job in multiple counties in AZ.

The majority of multi-unit food service operators have extensive training programs and requirements for their staff. To be forced to modify their programs to accommodate municipal and county variations in training and credentialing is difficult and disruptive. It is much more effective and thus safer, in terms of thoroughness and tracking, to have a single statewide requirement to adhere to for multi-unit providers. Complying with statewide food safety training requirement removes barriers to growth and expansion for multi-unit food service establishments bringing more jobs to your city.

The proposed changes to the Maricopa County regulations are commendable because they are additive to the County's commitment to food safety training. The regulations do not impact the current County vendor supplied training but they do honor training certificates issued in other Arizona counties and they allow other state approved, ANSI certified programs to be used in Maricopa County to satisfy training requirements. Our understanding is that these regulatory changes have little impact on the current County food safety training contract other than opening the market to other certified training programs and making training more accessible to food service employees.

We believe the Maricopa County food service industry and by extension, the citizens of Maricopa County will be better served by the proposed change to allow competition in food safety training and credentialing. When the marketplace offers alternatives, we have seen compliance increase. Our industry relies on well trained and competent employees who deliver quality food, prepared and delivered safely. By affording employees more opportunities to receive required training and credentials, there are fewer excuses for not completing the requirements.

COMMENT:

I think that it is critcaly important for the county to recognize that an existing contract is in place. The Rule should be amended to account for that contract. If the following language is added to Section 4.A.3 of the rule it will mitigate opposition to this Rule. "and in accordance with any contracts and as approved by the county". This language will illiminate the neccesity for the county to make the current contractor whole and also bring the rule into compliance with the new statute.

COMMENT:

Work toward elimination of the necessity to visit the Health Department for a photo ID because this is the step that is often problematic. DO NOT Remove the requirement for a Maricopa food handler card. This is still critically important despite "Active Managerial controls". Maintain consistent quality training as has been selected by the County. New law only requires that there is reciprocity between counties - Does not require changing current program.

WE FEEL THIS RULE IS UNNECESSARY BASED ON THE UNCONSTITUTIONALITY OF STATUTE (ARS 11-269.12) AS IT RELATES TO THE EXISTING AGREEMENT STATEFOODSAFETY.COM CURRENTLY HAS W/ THE COUNTY.

PER A LETTER FROM OUR LEGAL COUNSEL DATED NOVEMBER 17 AND SENT TO JOHN KOLMAN, FORMER DIRECTOR OF MCEHS, WE CONTEND THAT THERE IS BOTH FEDERAL & STATE PRECEDENT THAT NO NEW STATUTE CAN INFRINGE UPON AN EXISTING CONTRACT.

WE REQUEST THE COUNTY RECOGNIZE EXISTING CASE LAW, SPECIFICALLY TO PRECEDENT AND THAT GREATER SCRUTINY BE PLACED ON THIS ISSUE BECAUSE OF IT BEING A GOVERNMENT CONTRACT.

Re: County Manager Approval- Enhanced Regulatory Outreach Process (EROP)
Case ES-2014-003/Food Service Worker Certification

In accordance with the Maricopa County Resolution, "Moratorium on Increased Regulatory Burdens," the Environmental Services Department (Department) is seeking your approval to proceed with EROP ES-2014-003/Food Service Worker Certification. This proposal qualifies for the County Manager approval under the moratorium "to comply with a federal statutory or regulatory requirement or a state statutory requirement."

The requested changes to MCEHC Chapter VII align with the recently enacted A.R.S. § 11-269.12. This statute allows for food service worker training and certification by accredited entities, and the requirement to accept other Arizona counties certificate or identification card.

This proposal is following the EROP policy and workflow process and no fee changes are requested.

We are requesting your approval to move this proposed revision forward in accordance with the Maricopa County Resolution, "Moratorium on Increased Regulatory Burdens."

Approved by Tom Manos, County Manager

ES-2014-003 Food Service Worker Certification
Monday September 22, 2014

Stakeholders Present: Vernon Stout – State Food Safety, Chianne Hewer – AZ Restaurant Association, Kate Piche – NRA/ServSafe, Cathy McCullough – NRA/ServSafe, Elisa Cain – NRA/ServSafe, Roberdo Angel – Albertson, Christine Ruiz – State Food Safety

Staff Present: John Kolman – Director Environmental Services Department, Andy Linton – Division Manager Environmental Health, Ken Conklin – Division Manager Quality & Compliance Division, Hether Krause – Environmental Operation Supervisor Quality & Compliance Division, David Morales – Supervisor Quality & Compliance Division, Joan Minichiello – Management Analyst Quality & Compliance Division, Michelle Chester – Training Officer Quality & Compliance Division, Lene Pope – Development Services Technician Quality & Compliance Division

Presenter(s): Hether Krause and Andy Linton

Minutes*: Hether Krause started off the meeting by discussing the Enhanced Regulatory Outreach Program (EROP) and the updated website. The EROP was put together by the Board of Supervisors (BOS) to allow for more transparency of any regulatory changes and updates.
Andy Linton explained that the Food Service Worker requirements are listed in Chapter 7 of the Maricopa County Environmental Health Code (MCEHC). Recently, Arizona Legislators passed A.R.S. §11-269.12 – Food handler training and certificate, which went into effect in July 2014. The Department is proposing changes to Chapter 7 of the MCEHC to bring the requirements into alignment with the new law. A copy of the Draft Code Mockup (attached) was handed out. Some of the proposed changes also bring language and definitions into alignment with those used in the 2009 FDA Food Code. Andy Linton went over the presentation (attached) and explained the proposed revisions. One of the proposed revisions stems directly from the State Statute which is "a valid food employee certificate, or identification card issued by any County within Arizona" will now be accepted. A "valid food employee certificate of successful completion of a department food handler training, or a "valid food employee certificate of successful completion of a third party food handler training course that meets all statutory requirements, including compliance with the American National Standard Institute (ANSI)/ASTM International Standard E2659-09 will also be accepted.

Questions from Stakeholders and MCESD answers:

- The certificates expire within 30 days of issuance, so you have 30 days to take that certificate to the MCESD office to get your card, so how can the certificate of course completion be valid for 3 years?
    - In Regulation 2 it talks about the "Person in charge shall ensure food employees are training on foodborne disease prevention, per chapter III, section 2 of the MCEHC within 30 days of performing food employee activities." The language proposes that this training be conducted within 30 days of conducting food handling activities. The person in charge may show the inspector documentation of training with any of the three options outlined in this part of the regulation.

- So the employees no longer need to come in to one of the MCESD offices to get the County issued card?
    - That is correct, the certificate and/or documentation of training will suffice.
- Will the MCESD be tracking who has completed training?
    - The Department may request the documentation of training during inspections.
- So it's not going to be like in the past, where you were able to track the people that completed the training?
    - Correct, food employees will no longer need to come into our office to get a card. Since we no longer will be maintaining a database with all the cards that have been issued, we will no longer have a database of food employees who have received training.

MCESD will still be issuing is the Certified Food Protection Manager's Card; they will still have to come into one of our locations to get a card.

- You mentioned that there are several statutory requirements for the food employee, can they be found somewhere other than Chapter 7, and is the 80% pass rate still the same?
    - In addition to the areas covered in the statute, we will develop a "Substantive Policy Statement" to outline the specific areas of knowledge from the FDA Food Code that have to be covered by the training.
    - There is nothing specific in the regulation on an exam's passing score; only that the food service training course meets the ANSI/ASTM standard.

Meeting adjourned.

Follow-up Stakeholder Meeting
ES-2014-003 Food Service Worker Certification
Tuesday October 7, 2014

Stakeholders Present: Vernon Stout – State Food Safety, Chianne Hewer – AZ Restaurant Association, Kate Piche – NRA/ServSafe, Elisa Cain – NRA/ServSafe, Roberto Angel – Albertson, Christine Lewis – State Food Safety

Staff Present: Steven Goode – Deputy Director Environmental Services Department, Andy Linton – Division Manager Environmental Health, Ken Conklin – Division Manager Quality & Compliance Division, David Morales – Supervisor Quality & Compliance Division, Lene Pope – Development Services Technician Quality & Compliance Division

Presenter(s): Ken Conklin and Andy Linton

Minutes*: Ken Conklin welcomed everyone to this follow-up stakeholder meeting, and started off the meeting by discussing the Enhanced Regulatory Outreach Program (EROP) and the updated website. The EROP was adopted by the Board of Supervisors (BOS) to allow for more transparency of any regulatory changes and updates. We welcome any comments from our stakeholders and will respond to every comment whether it be in support or in opposition of the changes. We are currently in the process of reviewing all the comments we have received so far for this case, and all of the comments will be available as part of the staff report submitted to the Board of Health (BOH) for the October 27th meeting.
Andy Linton explained that the Food Service Worker requirements are listed in Chapter 7 of the Maricopa County Environmental Health Code (MCEHC). Recently, Arizona Legislators passed A.R.S. §11-269.12 – Food handler training and certificate, which went into effect in July 2014. The Department is proposing changes to Chapter 7 of the MCEHC to bring the requirements into alignment with the new law. Some of the proposed changes also bring language and definitions into alignment with those used in the 2009 FDA Food Code. Andy Linton went over the presentation and explained the proposed revisions. One of the proposed revisions stems directly from the State Statute which is "a valid food employee certificate, or identification card issued by any County within Arizona" may now be accepted as documentation of food employee training. A "valid food employee certificate of successful completion of a department food handler training, or a "valid food employee certificate of successful completion of a third party food handler training course that meets all statutory requirements, including compliance with the American National Standard Institute (ANSI)/ASTM International Standard E2659-09 may also serve as documentation of food employee training.

Questions and Comments from Stakeholders and MCESD answers:

- What is the process after the public comment period, and what is the accountability for those comments?

    - We create a staff report that will be posted on the EROP website 2 weeks prior to the BOH meeting on October 27th, and all the comments will become part of that report. That staff report then gets submitted to the BOH for their feedback.
- The way Regulation 4 is written doesn't say that it is a County issued certificate. As we read the law, this would not be in compliance with the law, and we thought that the County was trying to bring things into compliance with the law.
    - We do understand that the way the statute is written is very broad and can be interpreted differently. For example, accreditation is mentioned but it does not provide details on what this accreditation is, although the ASTM standard is mentioned in another area of the law. Our goal is to be in compliance with the statute and to also meet what we understand to be the intent of the law.
- We think the intent of the law is to allow each County to have their program, but have some reciprocity of the cards/certificates. So if you have a card from Yavapai County that it would be recognized here in Maricopa County. The law specifically says that a County issued certificate is valid in any County, so that means it has to be County issued. By definition, County issued means either the County must give permission to another party and include the County seal on the certificate or the County must issue the certificate themselves. Currently, Maricopa County issues the cards themselves. The way the proposed code language is written says that you are giving permission to anybody to issue a certificate on your behalf as long as they are ASTM standard accredited.
    - In addition to accepting food handler cards from other counties within the State, the statute also says that we have to accept accredited food handler certificates .
- So as we read the law the County has to approve those third party providers in addition to those accredited by ASTM accreditation.
    - The statute does not provide specific information on what this accreditation is or who accredits the training program. In our research, the ANSI was the only organization providing an accreditation to ASTM standard 2659. We also saw that this accreditation is used in most California jurisdictions.
- We have some significant problems with using the ANSI accreditation standards as it is implemented in California as compared to what the law says. We are concerned about food safety.
    - The EROP process allows for stakeholders to submit comments either in support of or opposition to proposed regulatory changes and provides an opportunity for stakeholders to propose new language. Stakeholder involvement is a very important part of our code revision process. We welcome any proposed language you may have and will respond to every comment we receive. The next step in the Enhanced Regulatory Outreach Program process is the Board of Health meeting on Monday, October 27th. The BOH will have a chance to look over both the proposed language and any comments received.
- The challenge we see if Maricopa County leaves the language as it is right now, it opens up for any ASTM accredited provider to be able to come and sell training in Maricopa County, which is fine except for the County will not know who all the providers may be. But the law says that the certificate has to be issued by the County. So if you say that all providers are approved, you would need to have all those providers include a Maricopa County seal on the certificates. If you do not do that, then you have a different problem. The other Counties will not know that the providers have been accredited or have been approved in Maricopa County.
    - If Maricopa County isn't issuing or requiring the cards, there would not be a Maricopa County card that other counties would have to accept under the law's reciprocity.

- If the certificate doesn't have a County seal, how will a food manager know that this certificate is valid and was issued by a County approved provider? We propose that you would require any provider that issues a certificate in Maricopa County to include a seal.
    - We are not specifically requiring a certificate; we are requiring that the person in charge ensure all food employees are trained on the required food safety topics within 30 days of performing food employee activities.
- The program that Maricopa County currently has in place is solid, why back away and go backward? There was much of effort put into the RFP a few years ago to establish a very solid program. What is defined in that RFP is very different than what is being proposed here. It seems like the Department doesn't care about food safety as much anymore. Currently, we think that Maricopa County has one of the best food safety programs in the country, why back away from that?
    - We always keep the Department's vision and mission statements in mind when proposing new code language in order to ensure we are doing what we feel is in the best interest of the health and safety of the citizens of our community. Receiving stakeholder input is an important part of this process - all comments are appreciated and will be included in our reports to the Board of Health and Board of Supervisors. Again, we do encourage you to submit specific language for the proposed code revision.
- The NRA thinks that the proposed program will be in line with the FDA Food Code - talking about the responsibility of the person in charge. We don't think that Maricopa County is backing away; we see it as more in line with current national standards for food safety.
    - We understand that there will be differences of opinion and we respect both sides.
- I think we all agree that the training must be ANSI accredited, but it should have the health Department's seal on the certificates.
    - When new statutes are enacted, the Department always tries to do due diligence to understand the intent of the statute, this is particularly important in cases where statues are not very specific. We feel that we did that in this case. Maintaining the highest standard of food safety remains our first priority. Our intent is not to minimize the importance of food employee training. In fact, a key component of active managerial control, which has been the focus of our program for the past few years (e.g. the Cutting Edge Program), is to ensure that food employees are trained.
- What will the economic impact for the County be?
    - We are currently not charging for the testing anymore, only for the printing of the cards. Specific information on the revenue generated from the current card printing can be provided, if desired.
- Based on the RFP from a few years ago it was $465,000 per year, and there could be other things that could cost the County, and we would hate to see that happen. This should be something the County should think about. If you take $465,000 out of the budge you'll probably lose some employees and that will just make it more challenging for the program and to maintain a good quality health inspection program. We would recommend that the County continues to collect the $5 fee for cards.
- How will you be able to verify the authenticity of the certificates, to make sure that they are not mass produced? We would recommend that you have some way to verify that, like having the County seal on the certificates. That should be written into the code specifically.
    - There have been some preliminary discussions on how and when the Department will conduct audits of the proposed food employee training documentation. One of the ideas being discussed is to focus these audits on establishments where violations have occurred during the inspection. The exact procedure for auditing cards will have to be determined once the language for the new regulation is finalized. Our intent is to hold the person in charge accountable for ensuring food employee training requirements are met.

- You mentioned that the County will issue a Substantive Policy Statement (SPS) with more details on food training, when will that become available?
    - That is something we'll be working on after this proposed case has been approved by the Board of Supervisors. Our intent would be to cover the general areas of food safety described in the statute and the food code.
- How is the proposed code language different today, than it was at the last stakeholder meeting?
    - We haven't had the opportunity to receive any new language from our stakeholders; most of the oppositions received were just expressing opinions. We would welcome any new proposed language. Any new language may not make it to this first BOH meeting, but it will be included in the information provided at the subsequent BOH meeting.
- What about the immigration issue, does the County have any concern with that?
    - Our only concern is to ensure we are in compliance with State statutes. Our focus is always on Department's mission and vision - to protect the health and safety of Maricopa County citizens.
- What other options for documentation of training are there?
    - The documentation of training can be a card or certificate issued from another County, a card issued by the Department (i.e. limited use card, fee waiver card), or a card/certificate issued by an approved third party.
- Suggestion to clarify that language a little better.
- What is the Department doing about those providers that are "selling" cards/certificates in the County right now and are not permitted to do so?
    - The Department would not consider these cards/certificates as valid.
- Does the County still have an interest in continuing to track certificates that have been issued?
    - We always evaluate how to use the limited resources we have to reduce the risk of foodborne illness in the most effective manner possible.
- The NRA cautions the County to not keep too much personal information on a database, it could get hacked.
- Everybody agrees that ASTM 2659 contains standards and requirements for security. These standards have to be met in order to receive the ANSI accreditation.

Meeting adjourned.

My name is Stuart Vaughn, the Director of Operations at Westaco. I support the proposed changes by the Maricopa County to the environmental health code regarding food employee certification. New Maricopa regulation revisions provide these benefits: - A food employee certificate/card from any AZ county will be recognized in Maricopa - Allowing a food employee training certificate to serve as documentation of training, instead of the current process that requires a $5 fee and a trip to the health department to obtain a photo ID food employee card allows an establishment to train their employees in food safety without additional unnecessary expense - Allowing additional training providers to provide food employee training in Maricopa means establishments can pick the training program they prefer - More approved training providers will lead to competition which will provide food establishments with less expensive training options - It will be easier and quicker to be compliant with the Maricopa Food Code as a food employee will receive their certificate right after completing the course

Comments:
- ServSafe supports the proposed changes to Chapter 7 of the Maricopa Food Code. - The proposed changes which provide approval for ANSI ASTM accredited food handler programs demonstrates a commitment to providing quality, best in class programs that will help protect the public health. - The change to no longer collect employee data in your county database is very smart as we are aware of many instances where state or county systems have been hacked. That type of data collection is high risk. -The proposed changes will help assure that our national and regional accounts who want consistent training are able to take the correct approved course vs. taking the wrong course that is not valid in Maricopa County.

My name is Brad Cox the Director of Airport Operations at LGO Hospitality. I support the proposed changes by the Maricopa County to the environmental health code regarding food employee certification. New Maricopa regulation revisions provide these benefits: - A food employee certificate/card from any AZ county will be recognized in Maricopa - Allowing a food employee training certificate to serve as documentation of training, instead of the current process that requires a $5 fee and a trip to the health department to obtain a photo ID food employee card allows an establishment to train their employees in food safety without additional unnecessary expense - Allowing additional training providers to provide food employee training in Maricopa means establishments can pick the training program they prefer - More approved training providers will lead to competition which will provide food establishments with less expensive training options - It will be easier and quicker to be compliant with the Maricopa Food Code as a food employee will receive their certificate right after completing the course

On behalf of the Arizona Restaurant Association, I support the proposed changes made by Maricopa County to the environmental health code regarding food employee certification. I thoroughly appreciate the proactive and inclusive approach that the health department is taking to work with the industry to understand the areas of improvement needed to ensure food safety in our state. These proposed changes will greatly impact restaurant owners with the option of high standard programs for food employee certification, and kill the lag time between the course being completed and the employee needed to make a trip to the health department and pay a fee for the card. These proposed changes work in conjunction with industry best practices, definitions, needs and responsibility of a restaurant owner and their food employees and managers.

Comments:
When we hire employees it is mandatory that they get a food card in two weeks. They generally don't get paid for two weeks, so it is, quite often,difficult for them to get it in time to comply with this rule. I think this would not only make it easier on everyone, but it would lead to more restaurants complying with regulations.

It will be quicker and easier to be compliant with the Maricopa Food Code as a food employee will their certificate right after completing the course. Employees who dont drive now wont have that additional concern of getting a ride/transportation when working to be in compliance of the food code.

I believe these changes would greatly impact the restaurants as it would be easier to obtain certification since there currently is only the one location and some restaurants are not located near it.

Comments:
I support the proposed changes by Maricopa County to the environmental health code regarding food employee certification. Training certificates should serve as documentation of training. The additional step of employees reporting to the health department with a certificate they possess and paying a fee for another card has surely been an unnecessary step in the process of compliance. Comments:
I support the proposed changes by the Maricopa County to the environmental health code regarding food employee certification. New Maricopa regulation revisions provide these benefits: - A food employee certificate/card from any AZ county will be recognized in Maricopa - Allowing a food employee training certificate to serve as documentation of training, instead of the current process that requires a $5 fee and a trip to the health department to obtain a photo ID food employee card allows an establishment to train their employees in food safety without additional unnecessary expense - Allowing additional training providers to provide food employee training in Maricopa means establishments can pick the training program they prefer - More approved training providers will lead to competition which will provide food establishments with less expensive training options - It will be easier and quicker to be compliant with the Maricopa Food Code as a food employee will receive their certificate right after completing the course

My name is Brad Flahiff, the Director of Development at Barnett Management Company. I support the proposed changes by the Maricopa County to the environmental health code regarding food employee certification. New Maricopa regulation revisions provide these benefits: - A food employee certificate/card from any AZ county will be recognized in Maricopa - Allowing a food employee training certificate to serve as documentation of training, instead of the current process that requires a $5 fee and a trip to the health department to obtain a photo ID food employee card allows an establishment to train their employees in food safety without additional unnecessary expense - Allowing additional training providers to provide food employee training in Maricopa means establishments can pick the training program they prefer - More approved training providers will lead to competition which will provide food establishments with less expensive training options - It will be easier and quicker to be compliant with the Maricopa Food Code as a food employee will receive their certificate right after completing the course

My name is [insert name], the [title] at [restaurant/company name]. I support the proposed changes by the Maricopa County to the environmental health code regarding food employee certification. New Maricopa regulation revisions provide these benefits: - A food employee certificate/card from any AZ county will be recognized in Maricopa - Allowing a food employee training certificate to serve as documentation of training, instead of the current process that requires a $5 fee and a trip to the health department to obtain a photo ID food employee card allows an establishment to train their employees in food safety without additional unnecessary expense - Allowing additional training providers to provide food employee training in Maricopa means establishments can pick the training program they prefer - More approved training providers will lead to competition which will provide food establishments with less expensive training options - It will be easier and quicker to be compliant with the Maricopa Food Code as a food employee will receive their certificate right after completing the course

Comments:
My name is Joe Barnes, the General Manager at Burger King #2303. I support the proposed changes by the Maricopa County to the environmental health code regarding food employee certification. New Maricopa regulation revisions provide these benefits: - A food employee certificate/card from any AZ county will be recognized in Maricopa - Allowing a food employee training certificate to serve as documentation of training, instead of the current process that requires a $5 fee and a trip to the health department to obtain a photo ID food employee card allows an establishment to train their employees in food safety without additional unnecessary expense - Allowing additional training providers to provide food employee training in Maricopa means establishments can pick the training program they prefer - More approved training providers will lead to competition which will provide food establishments with less expensive training options - It will be easier and quicker to be compliant with the Maricopa Food Code as a food employee will receive their certificate right after completing the course

My name is Laura Ruiz, the manager at Burger King #2303. I support the proposed changes by the Maricopa County to the environmental health code regarding food employee certification. New Maricopa regulation revisions provide these benefits: - A food employee certificate/card from any AZ county will be recognized in Maricopa - Allowing a food employee training certificate to serve as documentation of training, instead of the current process that requires a $5 fee and a trip to the health department to obtain a photo ID food employee card allows an establishment to train their employees in food safety without additional unnecessary expense - Allowing additional training providers to provide food employee training in Maricopa means establishments can pick the training program they prefer - More approved training providers will lead to competition which will provide food establishments with less expensive training options - It will be easier and quicker to be compliant with the Maricopa Food Code as a food employee will receive their certificate right after completing the course

Please support this revision! We own and operate 24 Burger King restaurants all over Maricopa County. It is so difficult to get our food service workers down to one of the 4 centers to get their food service worker certification. Many have limited transportation, income and availability to get this done on top of multiples jobs, school, childcare, etc. We have online access in all of our locations and we provide online training for our systems so this is a natural extension of what we are already doing. We are committed to food safety and food service work training. Please provide our organization and our employees with the flexibility to get this certification online. It will save us all time and money and it will ensure that this certification gets done in a more timely manner. Thank you for your time!

CKE is the parent company of Carl's Jr. Restaurants. We have 94 restaurants owned and operated in 13 counties in AZ (6 franchisees). 49 of those restaurants are located in Maricopa County. We support adoption of the proposed changes to Employee Food Safety Training Regulations. There is benefit for industry in allowing ANSI accredited trainings to meet requirements. The changes allow for greater flexibility and enable better compliance while retaining the intent of the regulation (employee food safety knowlege to ensure safe food handling/prevent foodborne illness).

My name is Steve Lynch, the regional manager at the Four Peaks Brewing Company. I support the proposed changes by the Maricopa County to the environmental health code regarding food employee certification. New Maricopa regulation revisions provide these benefits: - A food employee certificate/card from any AZ county will be recognized in Maricopa - Allowing a food employee training certificate to serve as documentation of training, instead of the current process that requires a $5 fee and a trip to the health department to obtain a photo ID food employee card allows an establishment to train their employees in food safety without additional unnecessary expense - Allowing additional training providers to provide food employee training in Maricopa means establishments can pick the training program they prefer - More approved training providers will lead to competition which will provide food establishments with less expensive training options - It will be easier and quicker to be compliant with the Maricopa Food Code as a food employee will receive their certificate right after completing the course Thank you!

Hello, I want to support the proposed changes to the environmental health code regarding food employee certification. New Maricopa regulation revisions provide these benefits: - A food employee certificate/card from any AZ county will be recognized in Maricopa - Allowing a food employee training certificate to serve as documentation of training, instead of the current process that requires a $5 fee and a trip to the health department to obtain a photo ID food employee card allows an establishment to train their employees in food safety without additional unnecessary expense - Allowing additional training providers to provide food employee training in Maricopa means establishments can pick the training program they prefer - More approved training providers will lead to competition which will provide food establishments with less expensive training options - It will be easier and quicker to be compliant with the Maricopa Food Code as a food employee will receive their certificate right after completing the course

The American National Standards Institute supports the proposed changes to the Maricopa Food Code. The approval of ANSI/ASTM E2659 accredited food employee training programs that meet the content requirements of ARS 11-269.12 will ensure that quality training programs are available to help protect the public health. All ANSI/ASTM E2659 accredited training courses and tests have been developed using best practices in instructional design and exam development. ANSI Certificate Accreditation Program (ANSI-CAP) will validate that all ANSI/ASTM E2659 accredited training providers are compliant with the state identified food safety content requirements. ANSI-CAP is based on an American National Standard, ANSI/ASTM E2659-09, Standard Practice for Certificate Programs. The standard requires that your program meets predefined industry requirements for content, follows predetermined processes, includes constant feedback for quality improvement. ANSI's accreditation process itself follows ISO/IEC 17011, the International Standard that defines quality third-party accreditation practices. ANSI is the official U.S. representative to the International Organization for Standardization (ISO) and, via the U.S. National Committee, the International Electrotechnical Commission (IEC), and is a U.S. representative to the International Accreditation Forum (IAF).ANSI accreditation is nationally and internationally recognized as a mark of quality and assures that employers can have confidence that the certificate holder has completed the prescribed course of study.

Comments:
H.B 2436 states that all food handler training must comply with the following: · Teach a minimum set of specifically defined training material; · The training must be ASTM 2659 Accredited; · Food handler cards have statewide reciprocity. This rule does not prevent Maricopa County from requiring training providers to submit training records to the health department. If the new rule implemented this requirement, it would allow Maricopa County to continue to maintain control over the food handler program. This would also prevent fraud as food protection managers and inspectors could look up training records to verify authenticity. Maricopa County should continue to collect a fee (current fee $5.00); however this fee could be collected when the training provider submits the training record. Training providers could include this fee in the price of training. The fee would be used to support quality inspection programs that are currently in place. If Maricopa County loses this fee, additional fees may need to be levied on restaurant establishments or compromise food safety in the county.

Dear Vernon Stout:

Thank you for registering your comment regarding Maricopa County Enhanced Regulatory Outreach Program (EROP) case ES-2014/Food Service Worker Certification via the EROP website.

We acknowledge your opposition to the proposed revisions to MCEHC Chapter VII to align with A.R.S. § 11.269.12 food handler training and certificate.

The proposed regulation requires that the Person in Charge of a food establishment shall ensure that food employees are trained. This concept is in line with current FDA Food Code which emphasizes the important role the Person in Charge plays in ensuring active managerial control of the food establishment. Field inspectors will verify that food employees are sufficiently trained during the inspection process. The Maricopa County Environmental Services Department will not require a "county issued" certificate or identification card for food employees. Therefore, there will be no requirement for a county logo on the provider's certificate or the need for a database of food employees.

The Maricopa County Environmental Services Department's proposed regulation is in direct response to the requirement to comply with the recently enacted State Statute for Food Handler training and Certification. The Department welcomes stakeholders to submit their suggestions for a code proposal that enables us to fully comply with the state statute.

We appreciate your participation in the Maricopa county Environmental Services Department's efforts to develop regulations that serve our community and ensure a safe and healthy environment.

In 2012, Maricopa County decided to improve the already outstanding county food handler training program. The County wanted to have consistent training given to all food workers. The updated program was implemented on September 1, 2013. This new program provides consistent training, whether the food worker takes the training online, in the classroom, or at the health department. The training was initially available in English, Spanish, Mandarin, Vietnamese, Korean, and American Sign Language; soon after Tagalog and Serbo-Croatian were made available. The program was easier to manage for the county, as they were able to utilize a single source to verify all training was genuine, preventing fraud. The proposed rule will erase all the progress that has been made in the Maricopa County training program over its history and its excellent record of accomplishment and customer satisfaction. H.B. 2436 changes the regulatory landscape, but it does not need to destroy the Maricopa County food worker program. Several changes can be made to the proposed rules which would both adhere to H.B. 2436 and sustain the intentions of the original food worker program: Require that all providers report student training records into a secure database (implemented by existing RFP provider). This database can be used to contact all food handlers via email or mail if an outbreak occurs. Verification of certificate issuance can be completed using this database by Food Protection Managers. The county can use this database as part of epidemiological investigation. Require that all certificates have a verification number printed on them that is searchable in the aforementioned database. Require a county logo and the ANSI logo be printed on all certificates. Collect a fee for every student added to the database. Enable students who come to the Health Department the ability to train and print a certificate using existing computer labs located at the Health Department buildings.

It was requested in the stakeholders meeting on October 7 to submit possible updates to the rule that would benefit the public, the county, and any other stakeholders while still complying with H.B.

2436. I believe that adding the following phrase to the end of section 4.A.3 will provide a better service to all parties: “AND IN ACCORDANCE WITH ANY COUNTY CONTRACTS AND AS APPROVED BY THE COUNTY” (See attachment for the change in context).

Reasoning for this change:

- H.B. 2436 requires reciprocity for other counties; the requested change does nothing to change that.
- Maricopa County currently has an existing contract with StateFoodSafety.com. The requested language update will not infringe on H.B. 2436 and will also eliminate the need for the county to refund setup costs to StateFoodSafety.com.
- This change will have no long-term effect on the rule once the contract expires.
- This change adds flexibility that will enable Environmental Services to make updates to the program if they see a need without readdressing the rule.

Short-Term Ramifications of this change:

- StateFoodSafety.com will continue to be the only Maricopa provider until the contract expires on June 30, 2016, at which time the requested change will have no binding on any provider unless the county decides to enter into another agreement of its choosing.
- The county can immediately stop printing food worker cards per the rule change and section 6.12 of the contract and still be within the bounds H.B. 2436.
- All ANSI training providers can provide training to any food handler in the state so long as they are approved by a county health department within the state of Arizona per the rule regulation 4.A.1.
- Until the contract expires, inspectors will accept training certificates that are issued only by StateFoodSafety.com, another Arizona county, or an ANSI-approved representative of that health department.
- The Maricopa County website will continue to read as it currently does related to approved providers until the expiration of the agreement.

Dear Christie Lewis:

Thank you for registering your comment regarding Maricopa County Enhanced Regulatory Outreach Program (EROP) case ES-2014/Food Service Worker Certification via the EROP website.

We acknowledge your opposition to the proposed revisions to MCEHC Chapter VII to align with A.R.S. § 11.269.12 food handler training and certificate.

The proposed regulation requires that the Person in Charge of a food establishment shall ensure that food employees are trained. This concept is in line with current FDA Food Code which emphasizes the important role the Person in Charge plays in ensuring active managerial control of the food establishment. Field inspectors will verify that food employees are sufficiently trained during the inspection process. The Maricopa County Environmental Services Department will not require a "county issued" certificate or identification card for food employees.

The Maricopa County Environmental Services Department's proposed regulation is in direct response to the requirement to comply with the recently enacted State Statute for Food Handler training and Certification. The Department welcomes stakeholders to submit their suggestions for a code proposal that enables us to fully comply with the state statute.

We appreciate your participation in the Maricopa county Environmental Services Department's efforts to develop regulations that serve our community and ensure a safe and healthy environment.

Feedback for Maricopa County As a stakeholder, and upon review the proposed process change for Maricopa Food Handler Cards, I have the following thoughts for consideration – The purpose of legislation should be to strengthen local programs, not weaken them. For Maricopa County to adopt the "lowest common denominator" approach that this legislation encourages represents a weakening of public health and the ability of local programs to meet their challenges in localized, creative ways. I encourage Maricopa Environmental Health to stand strong in their commitment to their own programs, while still abiding by the law. Because Maricopa County has a long-standing food safety program, reinforced with a robust food handler training requirement, it has been recognized nationally as a strong program. Operators take seriously the requirement for food handlers to not only complete the training, but receive the appropriate card from Maricopa County. The close involvement and investment of the county strengthens food safety for all members of the Maricopa County community. I believe that this strongly reinforces the food safety culture that Maricopa County has worked hard to create. The current proposed plan weakens that commitment, both in the eyes of the operator as well as the food handler. We all know that there is no guarantee that food handlers will take seriously the food safety behaviors they are taught, but knowing that the county supports a CONSISTENT and HIGH QUALITY training program encourages that food handler to take more personal responsibility. A county based program also helps those in the field, the inspectors, to take greater ownership of the training program and feel more invested in its' success. This is communicated in many subtle and not so subtle ways and MAKES A DIFFERENCE. Many times, as we have worked with counties transitioning from classroom training to a single provider of online training, we have heard from both operators and food handlers that there is a greater sense of team commitment as ALL individuals have received consistently presented information rather than the diversity that previously existed from one instructor to another (and which will also certainly exist between one ANSI course an another). Although the content coverage may be similar, the application of educationally sound learning principles to the presentation of content varies greatly between programs and detracts from the consistency that has proved so valuable. Although the new state law requires that training certificates from all ANSI accredited providers be accepted as valid, a county can still have more restrictive requirements. It does not state that a county cannot have a preferred provider, reinforced by having a direct link to that provider on the website. Maricopa has committed significant time and resources into the selection of the best training available, and continuing with the Marcicopa Food Handler Card would serve to continue to build a strong program. Some Health Department officials have suggested that with "active managerial controls" in place, there should always be correct processes in place and a responsible food manager in charge, and this then diminishes the necessity for consistent, high quality food handler training. However, it has been repeatedly pointed out that whereas in theory the process may have merit, the carrying out of these processes needs ongoing supervision, reinforcement and correction. Most typically, there is one trained "manager" on duty in many food establishments. Where the actual manager on duty spends their time varies a great deal. This manager is pulled in many directions . . .paperwork, office work, scheduling, monitoring the front of the house, etc. Although food safety processes may be in place, the individual with managerial responsibilities will hardly be everywhere at once and nothing will replace the individual themselves having received a quality training experience which builds a personal commitment to food safety behaviors. I strongly encourage Maricopa Environmental Health to stand strong in their commitment to the food safety training program they have invested themselves in. Remember, you are responsible for the food safety in your community. Take ownership, take pride and move forward appropriately.

I think it is appropriate that whomever is evaluating the updates to the Maricopa food worker rule understands the background of AZ House Bill 2436 (HB 2436) and how it applies to the rule-making process in Maricopa County, before a rule is approved. I have worked with a food safety trainer for many years and have worked hard to provide great training to each student, so these legislative changes have had a big impact on me and my line of work. I will attempt to be brief in my explanation. In order for anyone to understand how we arrived at HB 2436 we need to go back to 2010 when Senator Padilla of California introduced CA Senate Bill 602 (SB 602) in the Legislature. The National Restaurant Association (NRA), in partnership with the California Restaurant Association (CRA), wrote that bill. Their stated intent was to have a positive impact on food safety in California. However, they neglected to tell the senator that the proposed bill (SB 602) would create a monopoly in which the NRA would gross between $5M-$15M per year. Based on public record, the NRA spent over $200,000 in lobbying fees to ensure that this bill was passed by the legislature. Throughout this process, senators and representatives were assured by the NRA lobby that there were at least three organizations that could provide the training under the bill—when in reality the lobby knew that this was not a true statement (the NRA itself was the only organization that could provide training under the limitations of SB 602). The bill was signed into law on September 25, 2010. Shortly thereafter, Senator Padilla became aware of the half-truths that had caused him to introduce and promote SB 602 and immediately began work to bring an amendment bill to the legislature (CA Senate Bill 303). The senator's office, in partnership with a focus group comprising local Health Department and training industry stakeholders, worked hard to find solutions to the training challenges SB 602 had created. They ultimately worked with the American National Standards Institute (ANSI) to develop a version of their ASTM 2659 accreditation specifically for food handler training. The amendment bill to SB 602, SB 303, passed the legislature and was signed into law on September 6, 2011. By this time however, the NRA had used its direct restaurant database and industry connections to successfully capture millions of dollars in revenue. Important things to note about SB 602 and 303: All counties where the health department had an existing program were excluded from the bill. Additionally, hospitals, daycare facilities, nursing home facilities, and schools (all serving highly susceptible populations) were exempted from the training requirement—as were unions! So it would seem the real reason the NRA promoted the bill was to capture revenue, since so many exemptions significantly minimize the opportunity to improve food safety in California. The story does not end there. In 2012, the NRA, in conjunction with the Utah Restaurant Association (URA), introduced through Representative Anderson UT House Bill 313 (HB 313) to the Utah Legislature. This bill was designed to enable Federal and State laws to supersede all local health department control of existing food handler training programs. Removing local control from health departments was in the best interest of the NRA because they did not want to comply with local regulation. For this reason they made every effort to eliminate local regulatory control in favor of their national food handler program, effectively attempting to replace the longest running food safety program in the country (operating since 1984). In fact, during a committee meeting for HB 313, the URA president was asked how local health departments would maintain food safety programs, which include inspections, if the local health departments no longer received food handler training monies (a likely result of the NRA's HB 313). She replied "The health departments will just need to raise the fees on the restaurants" (their own representatives). The bill did not pass. Arizona HB 2436 may be a slightly different set of circumstances, but the NRA's desired outcome is the same. Like in Utah, many local Arizona health departments have had food safety training programs in place for many years and have been able to modify these programs to meet the needs of their public. HB 2436 now makes it more difficult for health departments to modify the training program to address local needs or concerns. Unlike the California bill, existing programs were not excluded from the new regulation. What is the origin of AZ HB 2436? Is it related to the NRA or the Arizona Restaurant Association (ARA)? Finding these answers has taken some effort, but I have followed the money and discovered how this bill passed the Arizona Legislature. We must start with Steve Chucri who is the President and CEO of the ARA. In 2012, Mr. Chucri was elected to the Maricopa County Board of Supervisors (representing 683,885 residents) where nearly 10% of his campaign funds were donated by the NRA and its employees or representatives. In June of 2013, through a competitive RFP process, the ARA was unsuccessful in winning a contract with Maricopa County Environmental Services to provide food safety training to food workers in the county. Shortly after the ARA's defeat, Mr. Chucri had a meeting with Representative Shope (65,450 residents) where he asked the representative to sponsor what eventually became HB 2436. Mr. Chucri was a strong proponent of the bill and influential in its passing. Some of the circumstances surrounding Mr. Chucri's influence of HB 2436 are unclear; however, I find it very suspicious that this bill directly impacts the ARA's bottom line and the bonuses received by Mr. Chucri. I say the fox is loose in the chicken coop. The common thread between these pieces of legislation (CA SB 602, UT HB 313, and AZ HB 2436) is not an effort to promote food safety, nor is it an effort to provide local health departments with the resources and control needed to deal with local problems and outbreaks. None of these bills was introduced to mitigate food safety challenges through increased regulation or inspection. The common thread for these bills—each sponsored by the NRA or its state chapter—is to increase revenue for the National Restaurant Association. I encourage all those who are influential with respect to the upcoming changes in rule to do what is best for the public health of county residents. In my opinion, that means writing the rule in a way that gives local officials control of their food handler programs to the greatest extent of the law.

I cannot believe the Board of Supervisors did not oppose this law when they had a chance. They just let the fox loose in the chicken coop.

Comments:
I feel the county needs a database of food workers for epidemiology purposes.

Comments:
This rule lowers the quality of Maricopa s program by allowing programs designed at a lower quality. The County would also have to accept cards from counties on a different food code version.

RE: Contract with StateFoodSafety.com (Serial 12149-RFP)

Dear Gentlemen:

We represent StateFoodSafety.com and Above Training Inc. (collectively "SFS") in its legal matters. We understand that Maricopa County, specifically the Maricopa County Board of Health, Environmental Services Department is considering revising the MCEHC Chapter VIII to align with the recently enacted A.R.S. Section 11-269.12 ("New Rule"). This change would enable any food employees or food service workers (collectively "food service workers") to satisfy food service workers training requirements by obtaining a training course meeting Arizona state requirements, regardless of where and by whom such training was provided.

We further understand that this administrative change is scheduled to take effect on or about January 21, 2015.

Our client has a contract with Maricopa County (the "County"), for a term of three years, beginning June 1, 2013 and ending June 1, 2016 ("Contract") which was obtained under normal RFP procedures and enables SFS to exclusively train food service workers in the County for the term of the Contract. The New Rule described above would substantially impair the Contract by allowing food service workers to obtain a valid certificate from any training course in Arizona that meets Arizona requirements.

Because of the exclusive nature of the Contract, SFS has invested substantial time and funds to provide excellent training and to fulfill the terms of the Contract. Since June 1, 2013, it has trained and certified 147,710 food service workers. It has the manpower and equipment necessary to continue to fulfill its responsibilities under the Contract and to train all additional food service workers in the County over the remainder of the Contract.

The New Rule would substantially damage our client and substantially diminish the revenues that would otherwise be expected under the Contract. If training and certification anywhere in Arizona would be accepted in the County, it is expected that our client's training of food service workers would be reduced by 91% percent.

Furthermore, implementation of the New Rule would not be in the best interests of the public. The County has carefully regulated and approved the training that SFS is providing. However, the County has no right or ability to be able to regulate and approve training from other areas of Arizona. Implementation of the New Rule would allow many food service workers to be certified in the County without undergoing the training that has been set up by SFS under the control and purview of the County.

In addition, implementation of the New Rule before expiration of the Contract would be in violation of the law. The US Constitution and the Arizona State Constitution both forbid the passage of laws that impair contractual rights. See the Contract Clause of the US Constitution, Article I, Section 10, clause 1. "No State shall enter into any . . . Law impairing the Obligation of Contracts . . ." See also Arizona Constitution, Art. 2, Sec. 25 "No bill of attainder, ex-post-facto law, or law impairing the obligation of a contract, shall ever be enacted." Under U.S. and Arizona Constitutions, the courts will not apply laws or regulations that substantially impair an existing contract, unless there is a compelling public policy reason.

The U.S. Supreme Court has held that the courts should apply even greater scrutiny in situations where a statute impairs contractual obligations of a governmental entity. See United States Trust Co. v. New Jersey, 431 U.S.1 (1977). Arizona state and federal cases have recognized and applied the contract impairment rule. See, e.g. Pure Wafer, Inc. v. City of Prescott, 2014 WL 1515143 (D.C. Arizona 2014). Cases in the Ninth Federal Circuit, in which Arizona is located, have held that governmental regulations and laws that impair existing contracts are in violation of federal and state constitutional provisions. See, e.g. Associated Builders & Contractors v. Baca; Chamber of Commerce of the United States v. Bragdon, 769 F. Supp. (N.D. Cal. 1991). Cases in other federal jurisdictions have also reached similar holdings regarding contractual impairment. See, e.g. Salt Lake County v. Holliday Water Company, 234 P.3d 1105 (S.C. Utah 2013); Association Of Surrogates And Supreme Court Reporters et al v. State of New York, 940 F.2d 766 (2nd Cir. 1991)

Accordingly, it would not be advisable for the County to violate constitutional provisions and proceed contrary to established case law. Rather, we would suggest that the County modify its New Rule to take effect after the existing Contract expires on June 1, 2016. This would be an easy alteration of the New Rule which would enable the County to meet its obligations under the contract and to comply with the law. It would be in the best interests of the County and the public in general, as discussed above.

We urge the County to take the action recommended above. Please consider this recommendation carefully and respond to me no later than October 23, 2014.

Sincerely,

DURHAM JONES & PINEGAR, P.C.

Richard L. Hill

Tim,

It was good speaking with you today. I'll look forward to speaking with the members of the Arizona Food Marketing Alliance in November. This will be a good opportunity to discuss and answer questions related to the Maricopa County Enhanced Regulatory Outreach Program (EROP) case ES-2014-003/Food Service Worker Certification. I think a better understanding the case will improve AFMA and its members' ability to provide feedback on the case via the EROP process.

I will come prepared to provide updates on implementation of the Ad Hoc Taskforce's recommendations and the Cutting Edge Program as well.

Thank you,

Andrew Linton, CPM, R.S.

Andy-

Can you help me understand the reason for doing away with the Food Handler cards?
We are having questions about it.

Also, being that we are in the commentary process of the potential changes would this be a good opportunity to get all my folks here at a meeting that you could review this with them and answer questions?

Thanks,

Tim

Hello Tim,

I wanted to provide you with the draft language and presentation we gave to stakeholders for Maricopa County Enhanced Regulatory Outreach Program (EROP) case ES-2014/Food Service Worker Certification. The reason for initiating this EROP case is to bring our requirements into alignment with A.R.S. § 11.269.12 Food Handler training and Certification, which went into effect on 7/31/14. If you have any question or if I can provide further clarification, please let me know.

This information will also be available on the EROP website on Monday, 10/13. http://www.maricopa.gov/regulations/es/process.aspx

In your second stakeholder meeting briefing you show the food code changes. In all other documents there is just an overview. What I would respectfully request is the code language that will be provided to the Board of Health for approval. I am looking for the exact verbiage and not an overview statement. I cannot find this on any of the websites and when it states for more information it simply loops you back to the 10 step process. Also look at your briefing statements they show stakeholder meeting after the Board of Health meeting, is this true?

RE: Contract with StateFoodSafety.com (Serial 12149-RFP)

Dear Mr. Hill:

This responds to your letter of October 18, 2014, sent on behalf of StateFoodSafety to the Maricopa County Office of Procurement Services regarding the above contract.

Please note that the Office of Procurement Services awards contracts on behalf of Maricopa County departments. The Maricopa County Environmental Services Department is responsible for initiating regulatory changes to the Maricopa County Environmental Health Code.

Our office is aware of the recent statutory change which provides that on completion of an accredited food handler certificate training course, the county shall issue any certificate or identification card required by the county to a person who demonstrates successful completion of the course. As provided by Paragraph 6.6.1 of Contract 12149, StateFoodSafety knowingly entered into a requirements contract and acknowledged that the county did not guarantee any minimum or maximum purchases would be made through this agreement. Accordingly we believe that the statutory change does not affect the validity of this contract and we look forward to StateFoodSafety's continued performance of its responsibilities under the contract.

Sincerely,

Wesley W. Baysinger
Chief Procurement Officer

We are so focused on an ID that we have lost site of the importance of building knowledge and accountability to safe food handling. Re: Contract with StateFoodSafety.com (Serial 12149-RFP)

Dear Mr. Kolman and Mr. Baysinger:

This letter is being sent to Mr. John Kolman, Director of the Environmental Services Department, which we understand is responsible for initiating a new regulation modifying the Maricopa County Environmental Health Code ("MCEHC") with respect to certification of all Food Service Workers. This letter is a follow-up to our earlier letter of October 18, 2014 to both the Maricopa County Environmental Services Department and the Maricopa County Office of Procurement Services, a copy of which is enclosed.

This letter is also in response to the letter of October 30 from Mr. Wesley Baysinger, Maricopa County Office of Procument Sevices, regarding the above matter, a copy of which is enclosed.

We agree with Mr. Basinger's statement in his response letter that the referenced statutory and proposed regulator change does not affect the validity of the above referenced contract (the "Contract") that Maricopa County (the "County") has with AboveTraining Inc., dba StateFoodSafety.com ("SFS"). However, as stated in my earlier letter, there is a proposed rule modifying the regulations of MCEHC Chapter VII (the "Rule") to implement the new Arizona statute effectively allowing many providers to supply Food Service Worker (FSW) training in Maricopa County and throughout the State of Arizona. (A.R.S. Section 11-269.12).

If this proposed new Rule is implemented by Maricopa County, it will substantially and detrimentally affect the revenues that SFS will receive under the Contract, which will damage SFS and which will be in violation of federal and state law.

Exclusive Requirements Contract

The Contract (Paragraph 6.7.1) states that it is a requirements contract. In fact, it is the only FSW training contract granted by Maricopa County pursuant to the above RFP. Accordingly, it has been and still is the understanding of our client that the current Contract is exclusive - that is, all FSW needing certification to work in the County will be trained by our client. So far, this arrangement has worked well, and SFS has been able to train many FSW for certification.

Our client has invested substantial funds and time to be able to accommodate the entire needs of the County. It has spent at least $130,000 in developing four Maricopa County offices to accommodate onsite training, including providing the essential software, computers, internet service, kiosks, card printers, etc. It has also expended at least 1500 man hours in implementing the onsite facilities. SFS would not have made this substantial investment if the Contract had not been exclusive and for the duration of the contract term.

Moreover, it was the intention and purpose of the County to have only one entity to exclusively provide this FSW training. In the RFP, Section 1, it states: "The purpose of this Request for Proposal is to define the requirements and to solicit for a Course-sponsoring organization (CSO) for Food Service Workers (FSW) online and classroom training and testing." In addition, in Section 2.8 of the RFP, it states: "This Request for Proposal is for awarding a revenue contract." Clearly, it was the intent and purpose of the County to grant one exclusive requirements contract for all FSW training and certification within the County.

SFS has fully performed under the Contract and has met all the needs of the County to train its FSW. Our client's hope and expectation, for the remainder of its three-year contractual term, is that it will be able to continue to exclusively provide satisfactory training and certification for all new FSW in the County.

Our earlier letter of October 18 pointed out that, if the Rule goes into effect, our client will suffer a reduction of training and revenue of about 91%. To be a true exclusive requirements Contract, the County will need to continue to enable SFS to train all new FSW needing certification to work in the County. The Rule would take away that exclusiveness and most of our client's revenue.

Unconstitutional substantial and unreasonable impairment of the Contract

Implementation of the Rule would not only be disastrous to our client, it would be in violation of the U.S. and Arizona Constitutions and the law of the U.S. Supreme Court, the 9th Federal Circuit (of which Arizona is a part) and Arizona state law because it would cause a substantial and unreasonable impairment of the Contract, as discussed in detail in my letter of October 18, 2014.

Pure Wafer v. City of Prescott, 2014 WL 1515143 (D. Ct. Arizona 2014)(the U.S. District Court for Arizona), a case that was cited in our earlier letter, is a primary authority in point. It quoted an earlier 9th Circuit case in stating:

> An impairment of a public contract is substantial if it deprives a private party of an important right, thwarts performance of an essential term, defeats the expectations of the parties, or alters a financial term." S. Cal. Gas Co. v. City of Santa Ana, 336 F.3d 885, 890 (9th Cir.2003)(a U.S. 9th Circuit Court case).

The above-cited impairment of a public contract is exactly what is happening in the present matter. Clearly the Rule "deprives a private party of an important right," "thwarts the performance of an essential term," that is being able to train all new FSW in the County, "defeats the expectations of the parties" by depriving our client of about 91% of its business and thereby substantially "alters a financial term." Accordingly, the present situation clearly fits within the 9th Circuit definition of what constitutes an unlawful regulation.

The Pure Wafer case also stated that, for a substantial impairment to not violate the constitution, it must be both reasonable and necessary. The court pointed out that the situation in Pure Wafer was neither reasonable nor necessary:

> In determining whether a substantial impairment is reasonable, the Court considers "the extent of the impairment as well as the public purpose to be served." S. Cal. Gas, 336 F.3d at 894–95. "An impairment is not a reasonable one if the problem sought to be resolved by an impairment of the contract existed at the time the contractual obligation was incurred." Id. at 895. Moreover, "Changed circumstances and important government goals do not make an impairment reasonable if the changed circumstances are 'of degree and not kind.' " Id. (quoting U.S. Trust, 431 U.S. at 32, 97 S.Ct. 1505) (a U.S. Supreme Court case).

In the present case, the matter to be resolved by the impairment (enabling state-wide certification) existed at the time the contractual obligation was incurred. Accordingly, under Arizona state and federal law, it is not reasonable to cause substantial impairment of the Contract by implementing the Rule.

Covenant of Good Faith and Fair Dealing

The Pure Wafer case was also highly instructive on another important point – the requirement of good faith and fair dealing in all Arizona contracts:

> Arizona law implies a covenant of good faith and fair dealing in every contract. Bike Fashion Corp. v. Kramer, 202 Ariz. 420, 46 P.3d 431, 434 ¶ 13 (Ariz.Ct.App.2002) (an Arizona Court of Appeals case). The purpose of this covenant is so "neither party will act to impair the right of the other to receive the benefits which flow from their agreement or contractual relationship." This covenant "guarantees the protection of the parties' reasonable expectations," and is breached either "by exercising express discretion in a way inconsistent with a party's reasonable expectations and by acting in ways not expressly excluded by the contract's terms but which nevertheless bear adversely on the party's reasonably expected benefits of the bargain" Rawlings v. Apodaca, 151 Ariz. 149, 726 P.2d 565, 569–70 (1986) (an Arizona Supreme Court case).

In the present matter, implementation of the Rule would violate this requirement of good faith and fair dealing by impairing "the right of the other [party] to receive the benefits which flow from their agreement or contractual relationship." This violation would "bear adversely on the party's reasonable expected benefits of the bargain."

Conclusion

In view of the breach and impairment of the current Contract that would result from the adoption and implementation of the Rule, and the U.S. law and Arizona state law that would be violated by the Rule as discussed above, We respectfully renew our request to the Maricopa County Environmental Services Department made in our October 18 letter to either decide against implementing the Rule or to delay implementation of the Rule until the Contract expires, for the reasons stated above and in our earlier letter.

We also request that the Maricopa County Office of Procurement Services withdraw its support for adoption and subsequent implementation of the Rule in its present form, on the basis that implementation would be highly detrimental and unlawful for the present Contract.

We await responses from both Mr. Kolman and Mr. Baysinger.

Respectfully,

DURHAM JONES & PINEGAR, P.C.

Dear Julie Toma:

Thank you for registering your comment regarding Maricopa County Enhanced Regulatory Outreach Program (EROP) case ES-2014-003/Food Service Worker Certification via the EROP website.

The proposed regulation requires that the Person in Charge of a food establishment shall ensure food employees are trained pursuant to Arizona Revised Statute § 11-269.12.

This concept is in line with the current FDA Food Code, which emphasizes the important role the Person in Charge plays in ensuring active managerial control of the food establishment. Field inspectors will verify that food employees are sufficiently trained during the inspection process.

If the proposed regulation is approved, the Maricopa County Environmental Services Department will not require a "county issued" certificate or identification card for food employees. The Maricopa County Environmental Services Department's proposed regulation is in direct response to the requirement to comply with the recently enacted State Statute mentioned above for food handler training and certificate.

We appreciate your participation in Maricopa County Environmental Services Department's efforts to develop regulations that serve our community and ensure a safe and healthy environment. Please consider attending the Thursday, December 4, 2014 stakeholder meeting for this case, ES-2014-003/Food Service Worker Certification.

I heard they are changing the requirements for food safety training, and this scares me! I've worked in the restaurant industry and it's amazing how many managers completely forgo training for their employees! Even something simple as doing it online really helps, sometimes the most obvious safety behaviors are the ones most forgot! Please reconsider, I would feel more comfortable eating at public restaurants knowing that all of the staff has been trained properly!

As a former restaurant manager I'm appalled at the proposed changes to the Food Service Worker Certification. I went through numerous food training programs for my jobs and I appreciated the knowledge that came from them. If the Food Handlers Certfication requirements are reduced so much, I can't guarantee that I would eat out as much which would have a negative impact on society. I would also share these changes with all those around me, reducing their visits to restaurants. If you rely on untrained managers/leads to train people, then people will get sick. Requiring a class prior to working in the Food Industry, guarantees a baseline of training needed to promote healthy habits. Especially when there are so many areas which could adversely affect the health of the consumer.

11-269.12. Food handler training and certificate

A. 1.1 MCESD/Arizona Specific Requirements:

The CSO must comply with all MCESD policies and all Federal, State and County regulations associated with food handling and preparation contained within the Maricopa County Environmental Health Code (MCEHC) Chapter VII. This includes MCESD's identification requirement of proof of lawful presence for FSW card issuance.

The CSO shall place all information regarding proof of lawful presence on the webpage and certificate to be designed by CSO.

All customizations provided by CSO to County shall be available in full audio in English, Spanish, Mandarin, Korean and Vietnamese.

1.2 Fee waiver Instruction

1.2.1 MCESD retains the responsibility for FSW classes/tests in which a waiver of the Food Service Worker card fee is demonstrated and approved by the Board of Health. This includes K-12 culinary arts school programs or other similar curriculum based programs when these operators and programs shall obtain a fee waiver from the Board of Health in accordance with the provisions set forth in Chapter 1, Regulation 5 (a) (1) and (2) of the Maricopa County Environmental Health Code. The CSO may enter into an agreement directly with these operators for services rendered and may offer a reduced rate for these services not to exceed the contractually agreed upon cost for an individual.

1.2.2 The CSO shall train and test, whether online or in the classroom, up to 500 qualifying students annually at no cost to the student or MCESD. If more than 500 students require fee-waivered training within a calendar year, CSO will offer the training at a cost of $5.00 per course and test to be paid by MCESD.

1.3 Training and Testing Criteria

1.3.1 Training

1.3.1.1 The CSO shall inform customers prior to registering for the online course or classroom instruction of the lawful presence requirement.

1.3.1.1.1 CSO shall continue to comply with this state and county requirement. Students will see the information contained on the website prior to purchasing the Online FSW Course. Students registering for classroom training will also be informed of this requirement on the website, by support representatives when scheduling classroom sessions, and by the classroom instructor. The proof of lawful presence requirement is also outlined on the certificate of course and test completion.

1.3.1.2 The CSO shall create and provide an online interactive training course. The course must include, but not be limited to the topic areas itemized in the FSW Online Course Curriculum and Test Criteria Evaluation Checklist (see Exhibit D). The CSO shall also offer classroom instruction and shall be of the same content as the online interactive training course and test and shall be available in English, Spanish, Mandarin, Korean, Vietnamese and ASL. For those with special needs the training course and test may be varied upon the approval and accreditation of the MCESD.

1.3.1.3 The course shall include interactive exercises (e.g. games, videos, and or quizzes) within or after each topic area section.

1.3.1.3.1 The CSO Online Food Service Worker Course includes interactive elements for each section of the course (8 in total). Four of the interactive assets are simulation games and/or enhanced learning activities and the remaining four are ungraded review quizzes. Video simulation of the proper procedure for hand washing is also incorporated.

1.3.1.4 The course shall be available in full audio English, Spanish, Mandarin, Korean, Vietnamese and full video ASL. The County may, at its option, choose to add additional languages which would be addressed via a change order to the agreement.

1.3.1.5 The course shall be at least 60 minutes in duration.

1.3.1.6 Each section of the course shall be set up in such a manner in which each section is to be completed in its entirety before allowing the trainee to move on.

1.3.1.6.1 CSO shall configure each asset (i.e., content slide, activity, video, etc.) of the Online Food Service Worker Course to ensure it is viewed in its entirety before the student can progress in the course. Once an asset has been viewed in its entirety, however, the student may return to it as desired for review. Asset protection ensures that a food service worker may not skip to the test before completing the entire Online Food Service Worker Course.

1.3.1.7 All course content and future modifications shall be reviewed and authorized by MCESD prior to implementation.

1.3.1.8 The CSO shall provide a toll free number for customer technical support. The CSO support team shall be available from 7AM-7PM Monday through Friday (excluding holidays). Calls shall not be answered by an automated queue during business hours. Email and web support shall be responded to within two hours of receipt.

1.3.2 Testing (Offsite, Online)

1.3.2.1 After completion of the online course or classroom presentation, the CSO shall administer an online FSW certification test.

1.3.2.2 The online test shall consist of a minimum of 40 randomly selected, multiple-choice questions covering all topics areas as outlined in the FSW Online Course Curriculum and Test Criteria Evaluation Checklist. The test shall be generated from a bank of at least 200 questions. All test questions shall be reviewed and authorized by MCESD prior to implementation.

The test bank is comprised of four, 50-item question pools. Each question pool covers one of the major topic modules contained in the FSW Course, specifically Food Hazards, Personal Hygiene, Cleaning & Sanitizing, and Time & Temperature Regulation. Students are issued test attempts which pull 10 questions—at random—from each question pool, totaling 40 questions per test. Tests are re-pooled for each attempt.

1.3.2.3 The test shall be provided in English, Spanish and Chinese. The County may, at its option, choose to add additional languages which would be addressed via a change order to the agreement.

1.3.2.4 A passing score is 80%, based on correctly answering a minimum of 32 questions (32 out of 40).

1.3.2.5 If an individual does not successfully pass on the first attempt, the individual shall be allowed to take the test as many times as needed in order to achieve the 80% qualifying score.

1.3.2.6 After successfully passing the test, the CSO shall guide the passing individuals print out a bar-coded certificate of completion. The CSO shall instruct the customer to take the certificate along with proof of lawful presence to one of the FSW testing offices to obtain a FSW card.

1.4 Technical Requirements (General)

The certificate shall also have a listing of the MCESD FSW testing locations.

1.4.1.4 The certificate bar-code shall be scan-able for verification purposes and contain all of the information detailed in section 2.3.1.3 with the exception of the MCESD FSW testing locations.

1.4.2 Certificate Bar-Code Verification

1.4.2.1 The certificate bar-code shall be the primary means of verifying the validity the certificate of completion and shall be scan-able via Wasp WLR8900 CCD LR (long-range) barcode scanners that will be provided by MCESD and utilized at all FSW testing locations.

1.4.2.2 The information referenced in section 2.4.1.3 shall populate on the CSO's verification website when the barcode is scanned by MCESD. The CSO shall also provide an alternate method for verification in the event of equipment failure.

The CSO shall maintain responsibility, from implementation throughout the life of the contract, for system updates, maintenance, and support of the entire Online FSW training and testing program. Weekly housekeeping will ensure hardware is well stocked and will confirm the condition of equipment.

1.5.3.2 The County shall not supply or stock the CSO provided equipment.

1.5.3.3 The CSO shall also assume responsibility for the maintenance and repair of the existing Fargo 550 FSW card printers at each location. The fleet of existing card printers will be replaced by the CSO as needed with the Fargo DTC-4500 FSW cards printers or equivalent. FSW ONLINE COURSE CURRICULUM AND TEST CRITERIA EVALUATION CHECKLIST

General Course Information & Introduction	Yes	No	Comments
Course instructions	✓		Online Course slides 1-2 "As you have probably noticed, this training material is presented in full audio, but you also have the option of reading along. Below the presentation area is the full text of the material being presented to you. To close the narrated text, click the little blue "down-arrow." Re-click it to see the content again . . ." (Slide 2)
Importance of food safety a) General introduction	✓		Page 3 "The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (or CDC) estimates that 48 million people become ill from food each year in the US, resulting in 128 thousand hospitalizations and more than 3 thousand deaths. Many of these illnesses could be prevented if people would follow the safe food handling practices you will learn in this course."
Personal Hygiene, Cleanliness, and General Appearance
General statement about good personal hygiene practices a) Including bathing, clean hair, clean clothing, neat fingernails, etc.	✓		Pages 9-12 "Each of us has disease-causing microorganisms on and in our bodies. The contaminants you carry pose a danger to those around you, including your co-workers and those you serve. However, you can prevent these microorganisms from spreading to food and other people by practicing good hygiene."
Proper Handwashing a) Why proper handwashing b) Hand washing procedure including where hands can be washed c) When hand washing is required	✓		Pages 9-10 a) "The simple act of frequent and thorough hand washing minimizes food contamination and makes customers and employees healthier. You might save a few seconds if you skip it every now and then, but following hand washing guidelines every time could save lives." (pg. 9) b) "When you wash your hands, use the restroom sink or an approved hand-washing facility. Never wash your hands in a sink used for food preparation or washing dishes." (pg. 10) c) "In addition, you should wash your hands after touching your hair, face, or any part of your body other than recently cleaned hands and arms, including your clothing or apron, and after touching any unsanitized object, such as equipment or washcloths." (pg. 10)
Handling of Ready-to-Eat (RTE) Foods a) Definition and examples of RTE foods b) Use of barriers (including examples) between hands and RTE foods	✓		Page 10-11 a) "Ready-to-eat food will be eaten without additional washing or cooking. This includes raw fruits and vegetables, cheeses, processed meats, breads, products that have been fully cooked, and so forth" (pg. 10) b) "There are several ways to avoid bare hand contact with food. Disposable gloves are commonly used, but you may also use deli tissue or appropriate utensils such as tongs, spatulas, and spoons." (pg. 11)
Glove Usage a) Proper technique on how and when to use gloves b) Non-latex gloves	✓		Page 10 "Proper hand washing goes a long way toward preventing foodborne illnesses, but for added safety, you should wear non-latex single-use gloves when preparing and cooking food. Gloves do not replace thorough and proper hand washing, nor should they ever be washed and reused. Rather, gloves are used to help keep food safe from pathogens that employees may have on their hands, and to protect hands from detergents and chemicals. Always wash your hands before putting on gloves, even if you are just changing to a fresh pair."
Employee Illness

Reportable Symptoms	✓		Page 7 "If you are experiencing diarrhea, vomiting, a fever combined with a sore throat, or jaundice, you shouldn't enter your workplace at all."
Reportable Illnesses/The Big 5	✓		Page 7 "These symptoms suggest you may be ill with one of the "Big 5," which means you could easily contaminate food or other people. Again, if you are feeling ill, tell your manager and take immediate action to ensure you will not contaminate your workplace. If a doctor diagnoses you with one of the "Big 5" foodborne illnesses, you cannot go in to work, and the illness must be reported to your manager, as he may have to notify the local health department."
Temperature Control
Temperature Danger Zone a) Temperature Range	✓		Page 18 "The "Temperature Danger Zone" is the temperature range where potentially hazardous food can become deadly: between 41 and 135 degrees Fahrenheit, or 5 and 57 degrees Celsius. When the temperature of potentially hazardous food falls within this range, bacteria can grow on it, making it unsafe to eat."
Potentially Hazardous Food (PHF) a) Definition	✓		Page 7 "Even when you are healthy enough to work, you should still be careful. Some foods easily spoil and are particularly vulnerable to contamination. Be especially cautious when dealing with these 'potentially hazardous foods,' or 'time/temperature control foods.'"
Cold Holding a) Minimum internal cold holding temperature b) Cold holding time limit	✓		Page 19, 18 a) "Hold cold food at 41 degrees Fahrenheit or lower. Check the internal temperature of the food regularly to make sure it does not become too warm." (pg. 19) b) "Bacteria grow slightly less quickly at the lower end of the danger zone, and so potentially hazardous foods that are removed from refrigeration but kept under 70 degrees, like chilled fruits and vegetables, may be sold or served for a period of 6 hours, at which time they must be discarded." (pg. 18)
Hot Holding a) Minimum internal hot holding temperature	✓		Page 19 "Once foods have been cooked to the required temperatures, keep hot foods at or above 135 degrees Fahrenheit until serving."
Cooling Foods a) Proper cooling techniques b) Time and temperature requirements/limitations	✓		Pages 19-20 a) "Divide food into smaller portions…You can also cool food using an ice water bath…Other methods include adding ice or cool water to the food as an ingredient, using cooling paddles, positioning pans to allow air to circulate around them, or using a blast or tumble chiller, if one is available." (pg. 19-20) b) "Follow a two-stage cooling method. In the first stage, cool food from 135 to 70 degrees Fahrenheit. Bacteria grow the most rapidly in this range, and so the first stage should take no longer than two hours. In the second stage, cool food from 70 to 41 degrees or lower. The second stage should take no longer than four hours. Total cooling time must not exceed six hours." (pg. 19)

Thawing Food a) Proper thawing techniques	✓		Page 18 "The safest way to thaw food is in a refrigerator. This way, the food does not pass through the danger zone during thawing." "You may also thaw food by submerging it under running water that is 70 degrees Fahrenheit or lower. Do not use hot water. Only use water that is safe for drinking." "You may use a microwave to thaw food, if the food will then be cooked immediately. But know that large items such as turkeys or roasts do not thaw well in the microwave. You may also thaw food as part of the cooking process. For instance, you may place frozen ground beef in a skillet and let it thaw while it cooks."
Cooking Temperatures a) Minimum internal cooking temperatures	✓		Pages 18-19 "Cook pork, beef, and fish to at least 145 degrees Fahrenheit, or 63 degrees Celsius. If the meat is ground, cook it to at least 155 degrees Fahrenheit, or 68 degrees Celsius, and keep it at that temperature for at least 15 seconds. Poultry, whether ground or not, should be cooked to at least 165 degrees Fahrenheit, or 74 degrees Celsius. If shell eggs will be served immediately, they must be cooked to 145 degrees Fahrenheit. If they will be held for service, they must be cooked to 155 degrees Fahrenheit."
Reheating Food a) Minimum internal reheating temperature b) Proper techniques	✓		Page 20 a) "When reheating food, heat it to a minimum internal temperature of 165 degrees Fahrenheit within two hours... Any reheated food that does not reach 165 degrees Fahrenheit within two hours must be thrown away." b) "Do not use hot-holding equipment to reheat food. Instead, rapidly reheat the food with appropriate cooking equipment."
Thermometers a) Proper Usage b) Calibration	✓		Pages 16-17 a) "To get an accurate temperature reading, place the thermometer's sensor near the center of a food item or container of food... When cooking, stir the food before checking the temperature (assuming the food can be stirred). This will evenly distribute the heat and give a more accurate temperature, to help ensure that the entire container of food reaches the correct … When checking food that is being hot-held take the temperature in several places without stirring." (pg. 16) b) "The thermometers you use at work should be calibrated often. To "calibrate" means to make sure an instrument is accurate. If a thermometer is not calibrated before use, the temperature reading it gives you is not guaranteed to be correct. Calibrate thermometers before each shift, and anytime they get bumped or dropped." (Pg. 17)
Cross-Contamination
Definition of Cross-Contamination	✓		Pages 14-15 "Cross-contamination refers to germs crossing from one food or surface to contaminate another. Cross-contamination can occur through hand contact, contaminated utensils or surfaces, and improper food storage." (pg. 14)
Examples of Cross-Contamination	✓		Page 14 "Imagine that a green salad is mistakenly placed below a plate of raw chicken in a refrigerator. Liquid from the chicken drips onto the salad and it becomes contaminated with salmonella."

Proper Food Storage
Proper Food Storage Techniques a) Raw and RTE PHFs b) Food off of floor c) First-in-first-out (FIFO) method	✓		Page 20 "Minimize waste by using older products first, as long as they're still safe to use; this is called "first-in, first-out." To protect against pests, keep storage areas clean and dry, with all food at least six inches off the floor and away from walls. Do not store chemicals near food… Keep food, particularly potentially hazardous food, in covered containers or properly wrapped. Remember: raw food should be stored below cooked or ready-to-eat foods, to prevent cross-contamination."
Cleaning and Sanitizing
Manual Dish Washing a) Steps of manual dish washing	✓		Page 15 "Before washing any heavily soiled items, they should be rinsed, scraped, or soaked as necessary in a different sink. Then, wash the items in the first basin, which should be filled with hot water, no less than 110 degrees Fahrenheit, and detergent. After washing, rinse the items in the second sink, which should be filled with clean water. Then, immerse the rinsed items in the third compartment, which should be filled with a sanitizing solution. As always, make sure to use the correct concentration. When finished, air-dry the items. Never dry sanitized items with towels."
Sanitizing a) Definition of sanitizing and its importance b) Use of sanitizer and chemical test strips	✓		Pages 13-14 a) "Common sanitizers include iodine, chlorine, and quaternary ammonium (often called quats, or just ammonium). A sanitizing solution is formed by mixing one of these chemicals with water." (pg. 13) "One important reason for cleaning and sanitizing is that doing so prevents cross-contamination." (pg. 14) b) "The concentration, or how much sanitizer is added to the water, is very important. If a solution contains too much sanitizer, it can be harmful. For example, utensils submerged in too much sanitizer could present a chemical hazard to those who use them. On the other hand, if there is too little sanitizer in the water, it won't kill the germs. The concentration can be checked by using test strips, which change color when inserted in the solution. The color of the test strip tells how concentrated the solution is." (pg. 13)
Cleaning and Maintenance of Kitchen/Food Service Area a) Importance (e.g. prevention of pests)	✓		Pages 15-16 "Maintaining a clean and sanitary facility also involves properly dealing with waste and pests. Waste, such as food scraps or packaging, is a natural result of food preparation. However, if waste isn't controlled, it can result in cross-contamination or the presence of pests that happily feed on the waste your kitchen produces. Because pests carry disease-causing germs, anything they touch becomes unsanitary, potentially leading to disastrous consequences." (pg. 15)
Chemicals and Pest Control
Proper Chemical Storage	✓		Page 13 "When not in use, detergents, sanitizers, and other chemicals should be stored in a cool, dry location away from areas where food is stored and prepared. Never store food and chemicals together!"
Proper Labeling of Chemical Containers	✓		Page 13 "Chemical containers must always be clearly labeled."
Pest Control a) Restrictions of pesticide usage	✓		Page 16 "Even when you do everything right, some common pests, such as rats and cockroaches, may get in. Management should conduct regular self-inspections, and hire pest extermination experts when needed. Do your part to help by reporting any signs of pests that you notice."
Major Food Allergens
The 8 Major Food Allergens a) Including possible side-	✓		Pages 8-9 a) "The eight foods identified by U.S. law as Major Food Allergens are: Milk, effects			eggs, fish (like bass or cod), crustacean shellfish (like shrimp or oysters), tree nuts (like almonds or walnuts), peanuts, wheat, and soybeans." b) "When an allergic person suffers a food allergic reaction, the person will commonly display symptoms that include hives; rash; flushed skin; swelling and tingling of the face, tongue, or lips; abdominal cramps; vomiting; and/or diarrhea. In the most serious cases, a person may go into a life-threatening state called 'anaphylactic shock'…"

Cross-contact a) Definition	✓		Page 8 "When an allergen passes from one food to another, it is called cross-contact."
The 4 R's (Refer, Review, Remember, Respond)	✓		Page 8 "When a customer mentions having a food allergy, follow the four R's…"

Dan Brenden
Office of the Maricopa County Attorney

Phoenix, AZ 85003

Dear Mr. Brenden,

As the primary sponsor of HB 2436 (food handler training; courses; certification) during the 2014 Regular Session of the Arizona Legislature, I am writing to offer my perspective on the legislative intent of this newly enacted law, since it is my understanding that discussions may be occurring within the Maricopa County Attorney's Office (MCAO) as to the correct implementation of the language. My reason for sponsoring the bill reflects my intent, and the support the legislation received from the Legislature and the Governor demonstrates its simple, reasonable public policy.

HB 2436 received overwhelming support in both houses of the Legislature, and in fact passed the House on a final vote of 55-0. Governor Brewer signed the bill on April 22 (Chapter 210, Laws 2014).

My primary reason for sponsoring the bill was to make food handler training courses more readily available to restaurants and workers and, importantly, to allow more choice as to entities that could offer such courses throughout Arizona. The more firms available to offer such courses, provided they comply with the standards outlined in paragraph A (1-5) of the bill, the better the access, affordability and efficiency of such training for restaurants and their workers. Competition generally has a positive affect on a marketplace, and food handler training is no exception, provided that competition remains primarily concerned with public safety and protection.

> D. ON COMPLETION OF AN ACCREDITED FOOD HANDLER CERTIFICATE TRAINING COURSE, THE COUNTY SHALL ISSUE ANY CERTIFICATE OR IDENTIFICATION CARD REQUIRED BY THE COUNTY TO A PERSON WHO DEMONSTRATES SUCCESSFUL COMPLETION OF THE COURSE. (Italics added.)

This language -- reviewed by the Office of Legislative Council prior to the bill's introduction and passage -- makes it clear that as long as a course is accredited per the standards contained in other parts of the bill, regardless of which entity offers the training, a county shall issue the proper certificate or card to anyone completing such a course. Paragraph D specifically and purposefully does not require that the training come from a certain provider.

As demonstration of the Legislature's clear intent for supporting HB 2436, it is helpful to note the statements made by my colleague, Rep. Justin Olson (Dist. 25), during the explanation of his vote on the House floor on April 21:

> ...this is opening up the courses to more providers. There are some counties where you have to go to the counties to get these courses, but this bill enables third parties to provide these courses and so it actually makes it much more open market and much more free market. It is a very good bill that I support so I vote aye.

Rep. Olson's comments are an accurate reflection of my primary intent and, I believe, that of the Legislature. As the MCAO is considering the implementation of HB 2436, I am hopeful this perspective provides some clarity, and stand ready to discuss this issue with you further at any time.

Thank you for you kind consideration.

Sincerely,

Rep. T.J. Shope

RE: Contract with StateFoodSafety.com (Serial 12149-RFP)

Dear Mr. Hill:

This responds to your letter of October 18, 2014, sent on behalf of StateFoodSafety to the Maricopa County Office of Procurement Services regarding the above contract.

Please note that the Office of Procurement Services awards contracts on behalf of Maricopa County departments. The Maricopa County Environmental Services Department is responsible for initiating regulatory changes to the Maricopa County Environmental Health Code.

Our office is aware of the recent statutory change which provides that on completion of an accredited food handler certificate training course, the county shall issue any certificate or identification card required by the county to a person who demonstrates successful completion of the course. As provided by Paragraph 6.6.1 of Contract 12149, StateFoodSafety knowingly entered into a requirements contract and acknowledged that the county did not guarantee any minimum or maximum purchases would be made through this agreement. Accordingly we believe that the statutory change does not affect the validity of this contract and we look forward to StateFoodSafety's continued performance of its responsibilities under the contract.

Sincerely,

Wesley W. Baysinger

Re: Contract with StateFoodSafety.com (Serial 12149-RFP)

Dear Mr. Kolman and Mr. Baysinger:

This letter is being sent to Mr. John Kolman, Director of the Environmental Services Department, which we understand is responsible for initiating a new regulation modifying the Maricopa County Environmental Health Code ("MCEHC") with respect to certification of all Food Service Workers. This letter is a follow-up to our earlier letter of October 18, 2014 to both the Maricopa County Environmental Services Department and the Maricopa County Office of Procurement Services, a copy of which is enclosed.

This letter is also in response to the letter of October 30 from Mr. Wesley Baysinger, Maricopa County Office of Procument Sevices, regarding the above matter, a copy of which is enclosed.

We agree with Mr. Basinger's statement in his response letter that the referenced statutory and proposed regulator change does not affect the validity of the above referenced contract (the "Contract") that Maricopa County (the "County") has with AboveTraining Inc., dba StateFoodSafety.com ("SFS"). However, as stated in my earlier letter, there is a proposed rule modifying the regulations of MCEHC Chapter VII (the "Rule") to implement the new Arizona statute effectively allowing many providers to supply Food Service Worker (FSW) training in Maricopa County and throughout the State of Arizona. (A.R.S. Section 11-269.12).

If this proposed new Rule is implemented by Maricopa County, it will substantially and detrimentally affect the revenues that SFS will receive under the Contract, which will damage SFS and which will be in violation of federal and state law.

Exclusive Requirements Contract

The Contract (Paragraph 6.7.1) states that it is a requirements contract. In fact, it is the only FSW training contract granted by Maricopa County pursuant to the above RFP. Accordingly, it has been and still is the understanding of our client that the current Contract is exclusive - that is, all FSW needing certification to work in the County will be trained by our client. So far, this arrangement has worked well, and SFS has been able to train many FSW for certification.

Our client has invested substantial funds and time to be able to accommodate the entire needs of the County. It has spent at least $130,000 in developing four Maricopa County offices to accommodate onsite training, including providing the essential software, computers, internet service, kiosks, card printers, etc. It has also expended at least 1500 man hours in implementing the onsite facilities. SFS would not have made this substantial investment if the Contract had not been exclusive and for the duration of the contract term.

Moreover, it was the intention and purpose of the County to have only one entity to exclusively provide this FSW training. In the RFP, Section 1, it states: "The purpose of this Request for Proposal is to define the requirements and to solicit for a Course-sponsoring organization (CSO) for Food Service Workers (FSW) online and classroom training and testing." In addition, in Section 2.8 of the RFP, it states: "This Request for Proposal is for awarding a revenue contract." Clearly, it was the intent and purpose of the County to grant one exclusive requirements contract for all FSW training and certification within the County.

SFS has fully performed under the Contract and has met all the needs of the County to train its FSW. Our client's hope and expectation, for the remainder of its three-year contractual term, is that it will be able to continue to exclusively provide satisfactory training and certification for all new FSW in the County.

Our earlier letter of October 18 pointed out that, if the Rule goes into effect, our client will suffer a reduction of training and revenue of about 91%. To be a true exclusive requirements Contract, the County will need to continue to enable SFS to train all new FSW needing certification to work in the County. The Rule would take away that exclusiveness and most of our client's revenue.

Unconstitutional substantial and unreasonable impairment of the Contract

Implementation of the Rule would not only be disastrous to our client, it would be in violation of the U.S. and Arizona Constitutions and the law of the U.S. Supreme Court, the 9th Federal Circuit (of which Arizona is a part) and Arizona state law because it would cause a substantial and unreasonable impairment of the Contract, as discussed in detail in my letter of October 18, 2014.

Pure Wafer v. City of Prescott, 2014 WL 1515143 (D. Ct. Arizona 2014)(the U.S. District Court for Arizona), a case that was cited in our earlier letter, is a primary authority in point. It quoted an earlier 9th Circuit case in stating:

> An impairment of a public contract is substantial if it deprives a private party of an important right, thwarts performance of an essential term, defeats the expectations of the parties, or alters a financial term." S. Cal. Gas Co. v. City of Santa Ana, 336 F.3d 885, 890 (9th Cir.2003)(a U.S. 9th Circuit Court case).

The above-cited impairment of a public contract is exactly what is happening in the present matter. Clearly the Rule "deprives a private party of an important right," "thwarts the performance of an essential term," that is being able to train all new FSW in the County, "defeats the expectations of the parties" by depriving our client of about 91% of its business and thereby substantially "alters a financial term." Accordingly, the present situation clearly fits within the 9th Circuit definition of what constitutes an unlawful regulation.

The Pure Wafer case also stated that, for a substantial impairment to not violate the constitution, it must be both reasonable and necessary. The court pointed out that the situation in Pure Wafer was neither reasonable nor necessary:

> In determining whether a substantial impairment is reasonable, the Court considers "the extent of the impairment as well as the public purpose to be served." S. Cal. Gas, 336 F.3d at 894–95. "An impairment is not a reasonable one if the problem sought to be resolved by an impairment of the contract existed at the time the contractual obligation was incurred." Id. at 895. Moreover, "Changed circumstances and important government goals do not make an impairment reasonable if the changed circumstances are 'of degree and not kind.' " Id. (quoting U.S. Trust, 431 U.S. at 32, 97 S.Ct. 1505) (a U.S. Supreme Court case).

In the present case, the matter to be resolved by the impairment (enabling state-wide certification) existed at the time the contractual obligation was incurred. Accordingly, under Arizona state and federal law, it is not reasonable to cause substantial impairment of the Contract by implementing the Rule.

Covenant of Good Faith and Fair Dealing

The Pure Wafer case was also highly instructive on another important point – the requirement of good faith and fair dealing in all Arizona contracts:

> Arizona law implies a covenant of good faith and fair dealing in every contract. Bike Fashion Corp. v. Kramer, 202 Ariz. 420, 46 P.3d 431, 434 ¶ 13 (Ariz.Ct.App.2002) (an Arizona Court of Appeals case). The purpose of this covenant is so "neither party will act to impair the right of the other to receive the benefits which flow from their agreement or contractual relationship." This covenant "guarantees the protection of the parties' reasonable expectations," and is breached either "by exercising express discretion in a way inconsistent with a party's reasonable expectations and by acting in ways not expressly excluded by the contract's terms but which nevertheless bear adversely on the party's reasonably expected benefits of the bargain" Rawlings v. Apodaca, 151 Ariz. 149, 726 P.2d 565, 569–70 (1986) (an Arizona Supreme Court case).

In the present matter, implementation of the Rule would violate this requirement of good faith and fair dealing by impairing "the right of the other [party] to receive the benefits which flow from their agreement or contractual relationship." This violation would "bear adversely on the party's reasonable expected benefits of the bargain."

Conclusion

In view of the breach and impairment of the current Contract that would result from the adoption and implementation of the Rule, and the U.S. law and Arizona state law that would be violated by the Rule as discussed above, We respectfully renew our request to the Maricopa County Environmental Services Department made in our October 18 letter to either decide against implementing the Rule or to delay implementation of the Rule until the Contract expires, for the reasons stated above and in our earlier letter.

We also request that the Maricopa County Office of Procurement Services withdraw its support for adoption and subsequent implementation of the Rule in its present form, on the basis that implementation would be highly detrimental and unlawful for the present Contract.

We await responses from both Mr. Kolman and Mr. Baysinger.

Respectfully,

DURHAM JONES & PINEGAR, P.C.

We need to make sure that we make the process to obtain FSW Certification easy to obtain and many accesses. We are so focused on an ID that we have lost site of the importance of building knowledge and accountability to safe food handling. It is my belief that our people having a Food Handler's card that is valid and a verification that they have gone through the training of safe food handling and personal hygiene practices and WHY trumps anything. Dear Julie Toma:

Thank you for registering your comment regarding Maricopa County Enhanced Regulatory Outreach Program (EROP) case ES-2014-003/Food Service Worker Certification via the EROP website.

The proposed regulation requires that the Person in Charge of a food establishment shall ensure food employees are trained pursuant to Arizona Revised Statute § 11-269.12.

This concept is in line with the current FDA Food Code, which emphasizes the important role the Person in Charge plays in ensuring active managerial control of the food establishment. Field inspectors will verify that food employees are sufficiently trained during the inspection process.

If the proposed regulation is approved, the Maricopa County Environmental Services Department will not require a "county issued" certificate or identification card for food employees. The Maricopa County Environmental Services Department's proposed regulation is in direct response to the requirement to comply with the recently enacted State Statute mentioned above for food handler training and certificate.

We appreciate your participation in Maricopa County Environmental Services Department's efforts to develop regulations that serve our community and ensure a safe and healthy environment. Please consider attending the Thursday, December 4, 2014 stakeholder meeting for this case, ES-2014-003/Food Service Worker Certification.

I heard they are changing the requirements for food safety training, and this scares me! I've worked in the restaurant industry and it's amazing how many managers completely forgo training for their employees! Even something simple as doing it online really helps, sometimes the most obvious safety behaviors are the ones most forgot! Please reconsider, I would feel more comfortable eating at public restaurants knowing that all of the staff has been trained properly!

As a former restaurant manager I'm appalled at the proposed changes to the Food Service Worker Certification. I went through numerous food training programs for my jobs and I appreciated the knowledge that came from them. If the Food Handlers Certfication requirements are reduced so much, I can't guarantee that I would eat out as much which would have a negative impact on society. I would also share these changes with all those around me, reducing their visits to restaurants. If you rely on untrained managers/leads to train people, then people will get sick. Requiring a class prior to working in the Food Industry, guarantees a baseline of training needed to promote healthy habits. Especially when there are so many areas which could adversely affect the health of the consumer.

Dear Board of Health, On September 22-23 and October 27-28, 2014 I was able to address the Board of Health regarding the proposed rule changes for Food Worker Training in Maricopa County. As you are aware, Maricopa Environmental Services is proposing to depart from their long tradition of requiring formal, county-prescribed food safety training and testing for hourly food workers to a reliance on what is termed “active managerial controls”; that is, that the managers are responsible for providing training. Your minutes from that meeting will provide a summary of the thoughts I offered for your consideration at that time. I am writing again now to share with you the results of a recent research study that was conducted by the CDC (Centers for Disease Control) and EHS-NET (Environmental Health Specialists Network) and published just last month in Foodborne Pathogen and Disease, Vol 11, Number 11, 2014. It is titled “Restaurant Manager and Worker Food Safety Certification and Knowledge.” The results of this study were derived from a sample of 65 restaurants in each of six jurisdictions for a total of 390 restaurants. The data reflect a number of things relevant to the current proposed rule change in Maricopa County. 1.Only about half of managers passed the brief food safety knowledge assessment that was verbally administered as part of the study, despite the fact that almost 95% had been food safety certified. 2. Although 90% of the workers indicated that they had been given some kind of food safety training, it was most frequently on-the-job training. However, workers who had received food safety certification were more likely to pass the verbal assessment administered as part of the study than non-certified workers. The study concluded “…these data are concerning, particularly for managers. Managers are responsible for food safety in their restaurants; we would expect them to be more knowledgeable about food safety.” It is also interesting to point out some of the language issues. All managers interviewed were fluent in English but the data showed that at the worker level, those whose primary language was English were more likely to pass the assessment. This speaks to the communication gap that can exist between an English speaking manager and their non-English speaking employees. A requirement for consistent training in non-English languages helps to close this gap. I offer this study as further support for our position that a requirement for formalized food worker food safety training is critical to the standard for public health that the Board of Health is tasked to maintain in Maricopa County. The rule, as currently proposed, would require only that some sort of food safety training is provided. We see this leading to food service establishments relying on their own training resources, which, as the results of this study suggest, are too often woefully lacking. We urge you to evaluate the proposed rule from a public health perspective rather than bow to the perspective of what’s “easiest” for the food service establishment, and again urge you to put forth your opposition to the proposed rule and instead continue to provide the right training plan to accomplish the goal of food safety for citizens and visitors to Maricopa county. Thank you for your support of public health, Christie H Lewis, PhD
