A Message from David L. Stevens, Chief Information Officer – Maricopa County

Welcome to the Office of Enterprise Technology (OET), Maricopa County, and most importantly to the team! I cannot overstate that you are our most valuable asset and without your commitment, talent, and professionalism we will be less than successful in our important work for Maricopa County and the citizens we serve.

You were selected for employment and our team based on the qualities that you displayed through the recruitment process – for many years I have said that I look for four key components: “Aptitude, Attitude, Initiative, and Talent”. You have all of these and more!

OET endeavors to create a workplace that will foster your growth and development into excellent leaders and professionals. I hope you will work in a way that is collaborative, respectful, disciplined in action, and with a sense of compassion for others. We desire to listen to our colleagues and customers in order to bring first-class technology and business realization – I also want to emphasize I hope it will be fun along the way!

I expect you to contribute your best each day and please know that my door is always open. The keys to your success include being dependable, reliable, collaborative, supportive, excellent communicators, initiating follow-through, building trust with our customers, ownership of actions and service delivery, and following the policies and procedures. Again, I hope you find your career at OET challenging, rewarding, and full of opportunities to make a difference.

Please take time to get to know your colleagues and our customers – I very much believe we do a better job when we understand our customers’ challenges. Relationships and established trust are invaluable to you individually and OET collectively. Again, I look forward to seeing you grow as a professional while delivering excellent customer service and fiscally sound solutions that also enable the success of our stakeholders and citizens.

Sincerely,
